Foreign Allied Troops On Guard In Shanghai

International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—A thin line of foreign allied troops took to the field today to protect Shanghai and its large foreign population while the maneuvering, warring Chinese military chieftains were preparing to fight it out among themselves to determine whether the northern or the southern faction shall control the city and its million dollars a month customs collections.

The British troops took up positions in the Jess field district far beyond the southwest boundary of the international concession. Japanese military occupied similar positions in the Northern Kiangwan district. The American Marines are remaining aboard the United States war craft in the Yangtse river, but are prepared to land on a moment's notice.

As this dispatch is filed, Shanghai is protected on the south and west by the British, on the north by Japanese, and on the east by Italian troops. Numerous foreign warships in the Yangtse guard the river front.

The Fengtien troops are virtually ignoring Sun Chuan-Fant's officers, the majority of whose loyalty is doubted. It is reported that the Nationalists offered General Li Pao-Chang, Shanghai defense commissioner, $200,000 to go over to the Cantonese. This offer is held largely responsible for the Fengtienites sudden rush toward Shanghai.

Shanghai was quiet today, drenched in a pouring rain. The general strike inaugurated last Saturday was virtually completely ended.

The Wheeling fire department answered an emergency alarm, and pumped water from a nearby creek when other sources of supply failed.

Little Surprise In Washington

(International News Service)

WAHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm bill occasioned little surprise at the capitol today. Administration leaders had predicted all along he would reject it.

Farm bloc spokesmen and Democrats generally criticised the president while administration supporters gave him praise.

"I think the president has made a very great mistake" said Senator Capper (R.) of Kansas, farm bloc leader.

Truck Runs Away On Croton Ave. Hill; Two Men Injured

Peter George, aged 45 and son John George, aged 17 of 1121 Moravia street, were injured, the former quite seriously, Thursday afternoon at the foot of the Croton hill, when the truck in which they were riding west on Croton avenue after crossing the Pennsylvania tracks at the foot of the hill, struck a telephone pole and was wrecked.

Peter George was pinned under the truck when assistance was rendered by persons near the scene of the accident. Both men were unconscious and ambulances were called. The father was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital while the son was taken to the New Castle hospital.

According to Harry Marshall whose car the truck passed on the hill and other witnesses the truck was traveling at a considerable rate of speed down the hill. It was apparently beyond the control of the men in it. After passing the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at the foot of the hill the truck crashed into a telephone pole at the right side of the street and but a short distance beyond the crossing.

The father who is at the Shenago Valley hospital sustained a fractured hip and injuries about the head.

The son who it at first thought might be more seriously injured is reported by the New Castle hospital authorities as having regained consciousness shortly after being taken there and apparently not seriously injured, his injuries consisting of a severe laceration on the right side of the chin and a severe bruise of the head. It is probable that an X-Ray of his head will be taken to determine the full extent of the head injury.

Make Charge Gigantic Movie Trust Controls

Head Of Indiana Theaters Association Files Complaint To Commission

INVESTIGATION MAY BE MADE

Alleged That Companies Under Hays Comprise Large Trust

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A complaint charging the existence of a gigantic moving picture trust, comprising all the corporations governed by Will H. Hays, movie "czar", has been filed with the Department of Justice, with demand for an investigation, it was learned today.

Aside from admitting that a complaint against the alleged "Hays trust" had been received from Frank J. Rembusch, head of the Motion Picture Owners Association of Indiana, and that an inquiry would be made, Justice Department officials declined to comment.

May Launch Probe

So far insufficient evidence to justify an anti-trust prosecution has been presented. It was understood, however, that Rembusch would be requested to furnish additional facts and that the department might launch a study of the make-up of the entire motion picture industry to determine whether the Sherman and Clayton laws have been violated.

The charges made by Rembusch, in general, are similar to the allegations presented to the federal trade commission in the investigation of the Famous Players-Laskey combine, accused by independents of restraining trade and eliminating competition in the movie industry. Hearings in this case virtually have been terminated.

Officials said that the charges brought by Rembusch are much more extensive in their scope, however, than those against the famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 25.—One man was killed and two others were wounded as a machine gun barked its message of death from an automobile which speeded by the club Cadix here early today.

Men and women participating in a private party in the night club fled in terror after the shooting, believed to have been the climax of an underworld feud.

Five bullets penetrated the neck, shoulders and abdomen of Mike Duffy, 43, who, according to police, is dying in Hahnemann hospital.

Four men who occupied the automobile are being sought by police as the slayers.

U. S. Welcomes British Move In Nicaragua

Such Is Indication In Washington Official Circles Today

SENATORS' PROBE LIKELY TO COME

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The American government welcomes, rather than resents, the decision of the British government to dispatch a warship to Nicaraguan waters, according to all indications here today.

State department officials apparently regard the British act as constituting justification of their own position, which has been that the Nicaraguan situation is serious enough to warrant the dispatch of 5,000 marines and bluejackets to the little republic. And in the British government's careful explanation that no attempt will be made to land forces, they see still another admission on the part of the British that the Monroe doctrine is the established, respected policy in the western hemisphere.

Far-Fetched Suggestions.

Suggestions that the British decision may have been due in part to British dislike for the projected American-Nicaraguan protectorate treaty were dismissed by state department officials as far-fetched. They placed little credence in that theory. Great Britain, it was pointed out, has always recognized American rights of superior political influence in the Carribean countries, as exemplified in existing treaties of a similar character in Haiti, Panama, San Domingo and Honduras.

Meanwhile, it appeared more certain today that there will be "investigations" of the administration's Latin-American policy during the recess, regardless of whether the senate authorizes Senator Borah to head a traveling committee to visit the Carribean countries.

Borah May Go.

Borah said he probably would go anyway, and Senator Edge (R) of New Jersey has made plans to leave a few days after March 4. Edge is as staunch a supporter of administration policy in Latin-America as Borah is an opponent.

Secretary of State Kellogg was sufficiently recovered from his illness today that he attended the regular cabinet meeting, at which it is understood Latin-American affairs, including Mexico, were discussed.

While the cabinet met, the foreign relations committee also met at the capitol to further consider the Borah investigation resolution.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE REFUSES TO APPROVE FARM RELIEF MEASURE

Sends Message To Congress Telling Why Bill Is Vetoed

Says Measure Is Unconstitutional And Will Not Benefit Farmer

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Coolidge vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill today and in a vigorous message to Congress explaining his action declared that the bill was unconstitutional, that it would not benefit the farmers, and that it was unworkable.

The President's veto throws down the gauntlet to his middle western political opponents, who wrote and campaigned ceaselessly for the bill. It also kills any chance for farm relief legislation until next December, as there is no chance of enactment of the measure over the veto, nor is there time to put through any other program in the week remaining of the present session.

Action of President Anticipated

Mr. Coolidge's disapproval of the bill had been generally anticipated, for he vetoed a similar bill two years ago. Backers of the measure had made changes in it in an effort to overcome these old objections that it was a "price fixing" scheme.

The principal reason cited by the President for his veto today was that the measure, as passed, is unconstitutional. In support of that he submitted a 10-page opinion from Attorney General Sargent.

The particular provision held to be unconstitutional is that which prescribes that the administration of the act shall be in charge of men who would be nominated by agricultural organizations. This was held to be a violation of the President's constitutional power of appointment.

While the principal ground for the veto was its stated unconstitutionality, supported by a 10-page opinion from the Attorney General, Mr. Coolidge literally hacked the bill to pieces with his criticisms of it.

The unconstitutionality was based upon that section which would limit the president in his choice of men to comprise the Federal Board which would administer the act. This was interpreted by the Attorney General to violate the constitutional appointive power of the president.

Not Benefit Farmer

But, aside from that, Mr. Coolidge said:

"The chief objection to the bill is that it would not benefit the farmer * * *

"It would not succeed in providing a practical method of controlling the agricultural surplus, which is the heart of the whole problem * * *

"The administrative difficulties involved are sufficient to wreck the plan * * *

"The bill would subject the whole agricultural industry to the tyranny of bureaucratic regulation and control * * *

"The bill would impose the burden of its support to a large degree upon farmers who would not benefit by it * * *

"The whole effect of the plan will be to continuously stimulate American production and to pile up increasing surpluses beyond the world demand * * *

Price Fixing Bill

"The bill is essentially a price-fixing bill * * *"

These were but a few of the barbed shafts shot at the farm bloc's pet measure by Mr. Coolidge in the course of a message than ran nearly 8,000 words.

"The difficulty with this particular measure," the president said, "is that it is not framed to aid farmers as a whole and it is, furthermore, calculated to injure rather than promote the public welfare.

"It is axiomatic that progress is made through building on good foundations that already exist. For many years balance and diversified farming has been regarded by thoughtful farmers and scientists as the safeguarding of our agriculture. The bill under consideration throws this aside as of no consequence.

Senate Cloture On Boulder Dam Bill Threatened

Drives To Displace Boulder Dam Bill In Senate Are Started

HOUSE FIGHTING AGAINST TIME

Third Time During Present Session That "Gag Rule" Has Been Subjected

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHNIGTON, Feb. 25.—Although assured of a vote tomorrow on the Johnson petition invoking cloture, the Boulder dam bill was threatened in the senate today on every side by drives to displace it in favor of other legislation.

One of the worst legislative jams in memory developed in the senate as a result of the filibuster against the Boulder dam measure and the efforts of its advocates to force it to a final vote. A dozen other bills of major importance languished on the sidelines while senators fought over the Colorado river bill or quarreled over precedence for other bills. Few of these measures can be passed between now and adjournment one week hence, it was apparent, unless the Boulder dam filibuster is broken.

The fighting chance for Senator Johnson (R) of California to win his remarkable fight for enactment of the bill, lay in the possibility

Federal Agents Planning Raids In This Section

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—Federal prohibition agents today were reported to be planning more raids in this district after swooping down on four alleged dry law violators in Fredericktown, Donora and Millsboro, where they said they seized a still and a large quantity of liquor and mash.

James Paginni, of Fredericktown, was released on $2,000 bond to appear before the U. S. commissioner at Pittsburgh, after agents charged they found a 150 gallon still and a large quantity of wine, moonshine and mash in a supposedly vacant house.

John Sidneck, of Millsboro, Julius Sabol, of Donora and Casimir Sobouiski, of Donora, gave bond of $1000 to face the commissioner on charges of liquor law violation.

Arthur Mometer

You may not like this Coolidge lad, who is the President ye ken; he may not cater to the whims of office-seeking sorts of men. He may not talk so very much concerning farms or banks or beans, but this I know, that Silent Cal says usually just what he means. No matter if the congressmen or senators present a bill and pass it by a heavy vote, if yet must go up on the Hill, where Calvin sits with pen in hand; and if he says the bill won't suit, he chops it down with little words, and for opinion cares no hoot. You may not like this little man, but what he says has lots of weight, nor will he change just overnight; the weather's wet, it's thirty-eight.

Interference To Be Gagged By New Radio Commission

Coolidge Approves Radio Bill, Gives Five-Man Commission Full Sway

ALL LICENSES NOW STAND AS REVOKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Interference the greatest enemy of the radio fans will be eliminated by the new Radio Control bill just passed by congress and approved by President Coolidge.

Secretary Hoover in making public the extent of the new measure asked the public to have patience for just a while longer until the federal government organizes the new system.

While licenses of all radio stations and operators have been technically cancelled by the new law, the commerce department will consider them in force until the commission which is to pass upon licensing begins to function.

To Eliminate "Howls."

"The completion of radio legislation makes it possible to eventually clear up the chaos of interference and howls n radio reception" the secretary of commerce said in explaining the situation.

"The new commission which is to determine who shall have licenses to broadcast at what times and with what power, will no doubt require some months to make rearrangements of broadcasting stations which will be necessary." Contiuing, he said:

There are today 733 stations broadcasting for public entertainment and information, and there are a total of 18,119 raido sending stations of all sorts.

All Licenses Cancelled.

The new act makes a fundamental change in the whole radio system. Every license for radio transmission now outstanding is automatically terminated. This applies to the whole 18,119 stations—Broadcasting, amateur, trans-oceanic and all others. No new licenses can be issued and no action can be taken upon applications now pending until the commission is formed.

Owners of licensed stations may under the law continue to operate them for a period of 60 days without incurring the penalties provided in the act for unlicensed operation. Every station owner who desires to operate them after the 60 day period must apply to the commission for new license and should do so within the 60 days.

Construction Permits.

All persons who are constructing or desire to construct new stations must apply to the commission for construction permits.

Applications for station licenses are to be filed with the secretary of commerce as heretofore although then can be be acted upon only by the commission. New forms are required and the form must be fixed by the commission.

Operators' licenses are distinct from station licenses remain under the control of the department of commerce but all such licenses now outstanding are terminated by the new law and new licenses must be obtained.

The department will however issue operators' licenses under the new law to all persons who are now licensed and will authorize all existing stations to continue the use of the call letters hertofore assigned.

SENATE CLOTURE ON BOULDER DAM BILL THREATENED

that two-thirds of the senate will vote for cloture on it in order to end the filibuster. Unless cloture is adopted, it was said, the bill is doomed to defeat along with numerous other bills.

Vote Saturday.

The immediate conflict facing the senate as it met today was a race between sponsors of the new public buildings and the alien property bills for the opportunity to displace the Boulder dam measure. Both groups were supporting motions to consider their bill instead of the Johnson measure but neither was assured of victory. In either event, the Boulder dam bill will return to its privileged status at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a vote on cloture.

If cloture should be adopted, final enactment of the bill will be but a matter of time. If it is rejected, the bill will in all probability be sidetracked for the remainder of the session.

The action of Senator Johnson in filing a cloture petition marked the third time this session that "gag rule" was demanded.

In the house, backers of the Boulder dam bill were fighting against time.

With Speaker Longworth declaring emphatically that the bill will be given its chance on the floor, the problem facing sponsors was to get the hearing in time to assure final passage.

The one fight on the three-cruiser amendment to the naval supply bill threw the house back on the present program. It had been expected that the medicinal liquor bill would be disposed of during the day. This further postponed consideration of the Colorado river project.

With the liquor bill and the second deficiency bill on the top of the list, there appeared little hope of getting a hearing on the bill this week.

MAKES CHARGE GIGANTIC MOVIE TRUST CONTROLS

that all companies operating under Hays comprise a trust and that independents are unable to break into the movie business without his sanction.

The Hays organization and its members control the production and distribution field and dominate the entire industry, he said. The Hays association is said to control about 95 per cent of the moving picture industry.

"If a theater owner complains, his character and business are subject to assassination", Rembusch wrote. "Often if a theater owner refused to buy a picture they will send agents into his city to destroy the good will he has with patrons and threaten to build a theater in competition.

"In this manner they force him to buy their pictures.

"Today none can find a way to the screen except through the Hays association."

Rembusch charged that the "independents are about all gone, and the 'dependents', stars, directors and others come under the influence of the trust."

About a year ago the Justice Department investigated the arbitration system in the movie industry and some modification of the plan was brought about.

Conclude Ford Stock-Tax Suit

Court Ruling In Hearing Just Finished Will Be Given In June

REVEAL DODGE BROTHERS ACTIVE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In the beginning, according to the record today in the $30,000,000 Ford stock tax suit, the Ford automobile was made by Dodge brothers.

That, at least, is the Genesis of the Dodge fortune as given in behalf of the Dodge estate, which recently sold its automobile holdings to a New York banking syndicate for $175,000,000.

Here is the contemporary account, as taken from the trial record of a $700 machine shop which grew up:

"Horace E. and John F. Dodge started a small machine shop in 1901 with a combined capital of about $700. At that time, Henry Ford induced them to make motor parts for his new horseless machine and to take stock in the company in payment. For some time they made practically the entire car. In 1919, they finally sold their Ford stock, 2,000 shares, for $25,000,000."

With this story as virtually the last in the record, the tax hearing was concluded today with an agreement between court and counsel for the filing of briefs within 50 days, replying briefs 25 days thereafter, and oral arguments at the convenience of the court some time after May 1.

The ruling in the history making case probably will not be handed down until June.

You can always tell naturalized Americans. They consider one child a mere beginning of a family.

MACHINE GUN IS USED IN ATTACK MADE UPON CLUB

gun, detectives say, was operated by experts in the use of the weapon.

Duffy and Bricker attended the early morning party, police believe, and left before the others. The quartet in the machine opened fire as they reached the door.

Police have arrested James Schrader, 24, and Albert Rudolf, 22, taxicab drivers, and Dominick Lynch of New York as material witnesses. The trio will be arraigned before Magistrate Edward Holland after being questioned. Lynch was arrested at the Hahnemann hospital when he made inquiries about Duffy's condition. He has refused to talk of the shooting, police say.

The two taxicab drivers claim they were cruising in the vicinity of the club and attracted by the shots picked Duffy and Bricker up after the shooting.

Patrolman Martin Calina, covering the beat where the shooting took place, said he saw the gunmen's car cruising along the street in front of the night club for several hours prior to the affray.

Dr. Stone Speaks On Life's Mysteries

Makes Noon Hour Address At Central Presbyterian Church On Square

"Fellowship of the Mysteries of God" was the subject of the third message of Dr. John Timothy Stone given today at noon to a large crowd of people in the Central Presbyterian church.

Dr. Stone will speak tonight at 7:45 in the First Presbyterian church on the subject "Eternal Realities." This will be the last of his four messages after which he will leave for Chicago where he is pastor of one of the largest churches in his denomination.

In speaking of the mysteries of life Dr. Stone said that the first mystery is that we can know God at all. He said that the question before the student world 25 years ago was the deity of Christ. But now the student world here and in India, everywhere, are saying "explain to us the personality of God." They are on the right track. Christ was God made flesh and if we learn of the humanity of Christ then we shall know of the divinity of Christ.

"God blinds us with the mystery of His love" said Dr. Stone, because we are not able to comprehend and bear the greatness of God if it was revealed entirely. He gives us a glimpse at a time like the boy learning to see after an operation upon his eyes.

When both sides get their story in print, you marvel that one small world contains so many gifted liars.

✓ Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No bother.

COME ON NOW! EVERYBODY!

GOLF is an old man's game, in the opinion of Dr. Cheesman A. Herrick, president of Girard College. He is opposed to it, he says, and has advised his son not to take it up. It amounts to nothing more than "chasing a little white ball over the lot."

Nevertheless, there is Bobby Jones, barely out of his 20's; and the links of America, England and Scotland show more youth than age at play. The art of chasing a little white ball over the lot depends a good deal on how it is chased. While something is to be said for the manhood necessary in the make-up of a first-rate football player or a boxer, it has been proved that golf is a game for men and women of varying ages.

One reads of Sarazen's skill in a newspaper and in the next may read about the elder Rockefeller's high score. It may be an "old man's game," but the best golf is played by the one who possesses the skill and vigor of youth.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLES STILL APPEAL

SPEAKERS at the annual meeting of the Puzzlers' League in Newark, N. J., said that interest is reviving in other puzzles than the cross-word variety. Doubtless this is true.

But the presumption that the cross-word recreation to obsolescent is hardly confirmed by observation. Less is heard about verticals and horizontals now, and people do not work them out in groups as they formerly did.

But newspapers continue to print them, and the response is gratifying. The chief difference between the pastime today and a few years ago is that it has become a solitaire occupation. Glance over a train, a waiting room, a lobby or any place where somebody has time to kill, and the quiet workers of the cross-word mystery will still be found in evidence. Professional puzzlers may have abandoned their erstwhile favorite, but the amateur thinks it absorbing.

REPORT FRANCE TO PAY

THE French government is reported as ready to pay the United States $30,000,000 this year as the first installment on its war debt, in spite of the fact that the funding agreement has not been ratified by the French Parliament.

This unexpected procedure is due to the fact that France has been preparing to make its first payment on the British debt —likewise not yet ratified—and realizes that it would make a very bad impression in this country if the British were paid and we were not. No assurance of ratification is given, but it seems to be implied that if France once begins regular payments, in compliance with the schedule arranged, she will probably continue.

This should create a wholesome situation out of proportion to the actual amount of money received. With France once showing evidence of financial good faith, there will be friendly reaction in America and an improvement in French credit.

And if there is to be any cancellation, America will be more disposed to generosity in that direction after France has recognized her obligation and made a substantial beginning in discharging it.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

THAT MAN IS FORTUNATE—

Who has learned to profit by other men's mistakes.
Who can listen to all men's advice and then use his own judgment.
Who has no fears of his past when he runs for office.
Who knows he has the confidence of God.
Who has a son who appreciates his father's sacrifices for him.
Who has never doped himself with self-pity.
Who can shut his worries out of his bedroom.

The appointment of Hugh R. Wilson to be minister at Berne is another case of the advancement of the "career" man in the United States diplomatic service. Mr. Wilson is still comparatively young in years, but a wide variety of experience has fallen to his lot since he took up diplomacy as a career about 15 years ago. He is a native of Chicago, who graduated from Yale in 1906 and then went to Paris for a special course in political economy and allied subjects. Upon his return to Chicago he engaged in mercantile business for several years before entering the diplomatic service in 1911. His first assignment was to Portugal. Subsequently he served at important capitals in Europe, South America and in Japan. In 1924 he returned to Washington, where he has since served as chief of the Division of Current Information in the Department of State.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:48. Sun rises tomorrow 6:39.

Lack of moral endurance is responsible for most of the crime committed in the country today, according to the opinion of a learned judge. American colleges teach endurance on the gridiron, but mighty little is said about moral training endurance.

The veneer of civilization is still very thin. Out in Tripp, S. D., members of a religious cult tied a woman in bed and kept her there without food three days to "drive the devil from her body". Officers drove out the devils who tied the woman, and she is likely to recover.

Some of these folks who are trying to reduce their flesh don't succeed in reducing anything but their pocketbooks. If someone would invent a process for transferring their surplus fat to skinny folks there'd be a fortune in it.

It is said that the Chinese invented gunpowder, but they have been a long time in making practical use of it. About all they do is to kill off each other.

Civilization doesn't seem such a wonderful success when you sit alongside some chap who pats his foot in time with the orchestra.

Beauty prizes have been awarded so promiscuously that there might be some interest in a competition to discover a homely girl who is amiable and who knows how to keep house.

Somebody suggests that bootleggers paste a skull and crossbones on every bottle of their stuff. Why not make them give a funeral wreath with every bottle, and a coffin with every case?

King Alphonso of Spain is rumored to be planning to visit the United States in 1928. He shouldn't fail to take in the Democratic national convention. It will be better than two bull fights.

"Talk about the sophistication of modern youth", remarked a North Hill man this morning. "The other evening I returned home weary, and my seven-year-old son, overhearing me say that my eyes were tired, piped out, "You've got to be careful of the stuff these days, daddy".

That Indiana College seeking to bar cheer leaders from their functions would take a lot of kick out of a scholastic career. Some of the educators seem to have no idea of what is necessary and what is not in higher education. Pretty soon we will have a college president who believes his school can get along without a football team.

Don't worry about the lies the people tell about you. Consider yourself fortunate they do not know the truth.

Four-wheel brakes on automobiles are a great invention. Instead of running over a person now, they enable the autoist to stop right on him.

By agitating the third-term idea senators and congressmen are merely making President Coolidge stronger than ever with the people. The right of choice is vested with the people and the fuss that is being stirred up now is reacting favorably to the President. After all, the people will consider prosperity more essential than precedent and the prosperity that is here now is real and the result of the careful and wise leadership we are getting. If the people want Coolidge again let the people say.

If France and Italy refuse to go into the proposed reduction of arms conference of President Coolidge, their places might be taken by Chicago and Herrin, Ill.

The latest thing for ladies at present is a spare stocking with each pair bought. It is to be carried and used in the same way as a spare tire on a machine. If one gets splashed or develops a runner the fair one is ready with the extra. Pretty soon we will see the ladies stopped along the sidewalks or on the edge of alleys changing over to the spare.

Spending less of the public's money is just about as good as trying to reduce expenses. But some legislators do not seem to think of that.

Writing about Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson's visit to New York, one observing newspaper man casually observes that Broadway has not seen such ankles since Peaches started to court Daddy Browning. When they start picking on girls' ankles the fat ones won't have much rest.

A new kind of robbery has been started in Chicago, the place from whence it seems that all new forms of criminality come, and that is robbing the pay telephones. Three of them were tapped in one night and few nickels taken from each. Some people would rather steal a few nickels than do honest work for dollars.

According to Hints and Dints, who has been looking them over in Havana, beer is served in scuttles down there as large as barrels. And the personal freedom that some people want is the right to dive in the beer barrels head-first.

The sport writers are trying hard to get warmed up to baseball, but it is a little bit early for any display of enthusiasm on the part of fans. Somehow or other, the $100,000 a year the players want has had the tendency to make the fans the goats.

On one occasion when Benjamin Franklin was dining with the English ambassador and a French functionary, the former gave the following sentiment:

"England, the bright sun, whose rays illuminate the world."

Dr. Franklin, rising in his turn, said:

"General George Washington, the Joshua who commanded the sun and moon to stand still, and they obeyed him."

A married man told us yesterday that New Castle is a little too quiet, as his wife has been away for two weeks and he has been unable to find anything thrilling to do. See in a magazine that we are approaching the 300th anniversary of the use of the fork as a dinner utensil. Three hundred years! And some people have never discovered what a fork is for. I saw three sword swallowers at one table in a restaurant last night.

IDLE FANCY

I've seldom ever had a notion
I'd like the syncopated motion
Of the peppy, steppy Charleston.
But somany folks are adancing,
And ajigging and aprancing—
That I sometimes sorter wish I had.

The young folks—how they love it.
And the old folks aren't above it—
This wiggly, jiggly Charleston.
Every flapper, every granny—
In every nook, in every cranny—
Till I sometimes sorter wish I could.

I laughed until I nearly died,
The day when my old grandpa tried
The razzy, jazzy Charleston.
The way he capered, sweat and panted,
While trombones wheezed and groaned and chanted—
Made me almost sorter wish I had.

In all the clubs and on the street,
And every place that people meet—
This happy, snappy Charleston.
They wiggle and they jiggle,
They gabble and they giggle—
Till I sometimes sorter wish I could.

O, the dance, the dance, the merry dance.
The rollicksome, frolicsome, jolly dance.
The dance they call the 'Charleston'.
Though once I loved the old-time dance,
I know that now I stand no chance.
But I sometimes sorter wish I did.

What colors can a blind man feel? Blue, green and red-hot.

What is it that always weighs the same, no matter how large or how small? A hole.

On what side of a mug is the handle? On the outside.

What is the difference between a dollar bill and a silver quarter? Seventy-five cents.

What is the difference between here and there? The letter "T".

"The stinger of the wasp is only 32-hundredths of an inch long. The other mile and a half is purely imagination."

About the only outstanding difference between the rural papers and the metropolitan papers is that the rural papers give big space to weddings, the city papers to the divorces.

The Angel Moroni.
Brave Brigham Young.
See Death Valley.
The Ghost City.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

On one of your trips across America, stop at Salt Lake City to get acquainted with the angel Moroni and all the land that stretches around him. Moroni, very big in bright gold, stands above the temple built by Brigham Young, for his Latter Day Saints.

Young has gone, with all his wives, let us hope, to the reward of daring men. Polygamy has gone, but the golden Moroni still stands high in air, his trumpet tilted up toward the mountains full of wealth and over the wide fields of magnificent fertility.

Below Moroni, on his right, stands Brigham Young's monument, a naked bronze Indian on one side, a bearded Mormon frontiersman on the other, back to back.

A bronze tablet between them tells the story of amazing adventure. Driven by belief in special revelation, Brigham Young set out to find a place where he and his followers could do as they pleased, and obey the orders of God as they understood them.

The Mormon band, traveling west through the wilderness 80 years ago, consisted of 143 men, three women, two children, 20 wagons, one boat, one cannon, 93 horses, 52 mules, 66 oxen, 19 cows.

On one corner of the table, fenced off from the white names, you see written, "Three colored slaves, Green Flake, Hark Lay, Oscar Crosby." Their names are printed here and the others left out to even things up.

Wise was Brigham Young, apart from the wife question. He made his streets 132 feet wide. If New York or Chicago had Salt Lake City's streets, their traffic problem would be solved.

Below the golden Moroni stands Brigham Young's house, called "The Beehive". Colonial in style, with a big gilt beehive on top. Nearby stands his other house, for more of the family.

Just across the way is the Federal Reserve bank, of solid stone, and beyond towers the snow-covered mountain range, the wealth of the Utah copper mines hidden in it. Moroni looks down on a lake so salty you cannot sink; four quarts of water evaporating leave one quart of salt.

Many things are as Brigham Young would have them and as he left them. The angel Moroni doesn't suspect that the real authority below is the Federal Reserve bank, the gigantic copper mine on the mountain sides, and the big Union Pacific railroad running west to the Pacific ocean, east to the land whence Brigham Young came so long ago.

D. F. Spencer, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific system, who shows you the angel Moroni and almost tells you what that angel thinks, says all intelligent humans should see the famous Death Valley.

In Death Valley you stand on the warm sand, far below the level of the Pacific, and look to the west at the white top of Mount Whitney, highest peak in the United States.

This trip must be made between October and the middle of May. In summer, Death valley is the hottest place on earth, not fit for a tourist accustomed to roughing it on the rear end of an observation car.

Picturesque and convincing are names of places in that valley, once the bed of an inland sea. Last Chance mountain and the Grapevine mountains close the southern end of the valley. The great Amargosa river of former times is dry. Gold, silver, copper, onyx are in those mountains. Many have died searching.

What once were black molten streams of lava reach out into the desert, as they poured down from volcanoes, dead ages ago.

You walk over plains of salt a hundred feet deep, carefully avoiding alkali pools. Life is scarce there. Above puzzled vultures soar, wondering why the automobile doesn't die, as donkeys and mules used to die in that desert, giving the vultures something to eat.

Traditions tell of Piute Indians, standing on the mountain side watching one party of white men fall and die 300 yards from a water hole. One survivor, Bennett, struggling to a spring, found a ledge of pure silver, broke off a piece and when he reached civilization had it made into a rifle sight. Many have tried to locate that "Gunsite ledge" of pure silver. You might find it.

Below Telescope peak you may see the "Devil's Golf Course". You couldn't walk over its jagged floor. Satan himself could hardly do that. Not far away is a beautiful date palm ranch 178 feet below sea level. Anything will grow if you give it enough water.

And across the Amargosa desert you travel to the "Ghost City of Rhyolite". Once it had a population of more than 10,000, railroad stations, stores, dance halls, jails and church. All still stand at the foot of Bullfrog hill, church, jail, mills that ground up ore from the rich gold mine, all abandoned now. Musing over the ruins of an extinct gold rush, you observe that there once was cheerfulness there in spite of jail and church, when you see one building built entirely of beer and champagne bottles, emptied by enthusiastic pioneers, then used for building material.

This is an interesting country with the angel Moroni guarding the Great Salt Lake, magnificent mountain ranges, marvelously fertile fields, all the climates and all the products of the earth.

You ought to investigate it, crossing first on one railroad, then another.

Other Americans have prepared the way for you. See America.

Have you noticed this about our wonderful prosperity, that while ever'buddy's dressed up an' eatin' at clubs an' dashin' about in limousines, all our towns an' cities are broke? Miss Fawn Lippincut has got a gorgeous new raccoon coat, but no underwear.

Oh, whether it's business or whether it's sport,
Study the rules.
Know what you may do, and what you may not.
Study the rules.
Know what your rights are. 'Twill help you a lot
In the critical times when the battle is hot.
Study the rules.

Life's not a scramble, and sport's not a mess.
Study the rules.
Nothing is left to haphazard or guess.

Know all the penalties recognized there;
Know what to go for, and what to beware.
Study the rules.

Nature has fixed for us definite laws.
Study the rules!
Every effect is the child of a cause.
Study the rules.
Nature has penalties she will inflict,
When it comes to enforcing them nature is strict.

War Time Rank For Gen. Brett

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — The senate on Thursday afternoon accepted the report of its conferees, Senators Reed of Pennsylvania, Wadsworth of New York and George of Georgia, on the bill restoring to Col. Lloyd M. Brett his war-time rank of brigadier-general. About the same time the house conferees, Representatives James and Quinn, signed the agreement.

Representative Stephen G. Porter of Pittsburgh, who has been pushing the bill, expects to have the house take action within a day or two. The measure then goes to the president.

A RAT ACT

A recent law in England, called the "Rat Act," makes it a fineable offence for a householder to "harbor" rats or mice.

Some scientists carried on a series of experiments to determine whether rodents carry diseases to any great distance.

Indestructible tags were fastened to the legs of captured rats and the migrations traced.

A few months later one was captured over one hundred and fifty miles away. Others had traveled more than fifty miles during that time.

The destruction of all rodents would be a step to stamping out plagues. They form a sort of underground railways for the transportation of deadly disease microbes from place to place.

Besides microbe-carrying proclivities, the rats and mice in the United States are credited with being the cause of over four hundred million dollars loss each year.

Rodents are a common enemy and with their extermination everyone would benefit.

England, more thickly populated than America, is beginning to treat the problem seriously.

Besides the Rat Act, it has established several rat-catching firms. One of these killed more than 60,000 rats last year.

One of her scientists puts forth a new plan which he seriously says he advocates. It is to capture rats in wire traps and let all the males go and kill all the females.

In a few years, he says, such a process would reduce the females until the males would all kill each other off fighting for wives.

The only rat-killing proposal that attracted much attention in these broad United States was one made in a state legislature a few years ago.

It was for a state "Rat Killing Day" to be held annually. Editors all over the country gave space to the proposal. This was not because they took the idea seriously, but because the legislator who brought up the bill to kill the rats was named Ratt.

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"When You Have Dreamed Your Dream" by Leyland Huckfield.

This poet was unknown to me until a short time ago when a friend drew my attention to his work. Here is the quiet talent of a spirit who loved beauty who understood the aching loveliness of this earth and felt as only the artist feels, the consuming wonder of life. This finely wrought sonnet is from a volume entitled "Rough Trails and Silver Meadows" published by the Midland Press. Unfortunately Huckfield died in the bright noon of his career. I feel that he would have achieved the heights had he not been summoned from us. We need the stillness of poetry like this in days that rush in pandemonium under the arches of time.

When you have dreamed your dream of fame and power,
And, wakening, find it life's late afternoon,
And know that labor will be done with soon
And that your hope is like a wilting bower;
Rise from the agony of that bitter hour
And force a smile and hum a wilful tune
Of bygone nights beneath a magic moon
When every sweet May meadow was in flower.

So shall you come at last to day's black end
And foot the gloomy path that none retrace,
And laugh because lost loveliness walks beside;
And those who follow on the way you wend
Shall look upon your carelessness of face
And mould their days to die as you have died.

China Requires Chance To Work Own Salvation, Returned Educator Says

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Feb. 25.—The Chinese have great intellectual capacity; all they need is opportunity.

Japan is a generation ahead of China in adapting itself to modern methods.

In the modernization of China's educational system in its higher branches she will work out her salvation.

These thoughts are brought to America by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford and brother of Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur. Dr. Wilbur, organization chairman of the Institute of Pacific Relations, has returned here from a three months' tour of China and Japan.

DR. RAY LYMAN WILBUR

China Progressing

The noted educator made contacts with many scholars, statesmen, soldiers and industrial leaders of the Orient. He was impressed particularly with the progress toward modern industrialized civilization being made by China, despite the present chaotic conditions there, he says.

One of the most important advances being made, he declares is a new system of writing which reduces the number of characters from 30,000 to 1,000, fostered by young Chinese intellectuals, many of whom received their education in the United States. This system can be learned, in fact mastered, in 90 hours.

Changes Coming Suddenly

"China is now, under the eyes of the world, going through changes not unlike those all modern governments have passed through, but she is having to meet these changes all at once," says Dr. Wilbur in commenting upon his impressions of the awakening Giant.

"She is forced to face three trying things at once. First, she is changing her form of government; second, she is trying to adapt herself to the requirements that have been forced by science on modern civilization on all sides; third, she has to cope with the interference of the foreigner and his established privileges. This would furnish a trying problem for any nation.

"China is now going through a civil war, with more or less of a grouping of the North against the South, the South with a strong nationalistic instinct and the North with less of that spirit.

Dr. Wilbur's View

"With us Americans it took many years to develop a national feeling and finally a civil war to establish the idea of national unity completely and a full national spirit. The paralyzing effect of civil war in China on many activities, including business, is no more irritating to us and other foreign investors now than ours were during our civil war to British investors, which offered one of Lincoln's greatest difficulties in pushing the war to its desirable conclusion.

"The Chinese have great intellectual capacity; all they need is opportunity. They are an agricultural people and have to develop a new economic system and organization as they move from the stage of home industries to that of modern industrial organization.

"My feeling after observing them and talking with their leaders is very strong that the world needs to be patient."

Go Gunning For Lame Ducks In Ohio's Politics

Urge National Movement To Change Constitution Election Provisions

State Legislators Act In A Plan To Eliminate Session Of Defeated Men

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—Ohio Legislators led by state representative R. R. Cross, Dayton, are gunning for "political lame ducks," and with this in mind have initiated a national movement to change the constitution of the United States.

A resolution now awaiting action in the Ohio assembly would revoke provisions of Article V of the constitution and pave the way for a convention to be called by congress for the submission of amendments.

The Ultimate Aim

The ultimate aim of Representative Cross and his associates is to provide for a constitutional amendment which would eliminate the long period between the election of congressman and the time they actually begin work—thirteen months—and suspend the session of "lame ducks" held shortly after the election.

The Cross resolution declares that "the enactment of popular will into law is delayed, hampered and prevented by reason of the hiatus between the expression of popular will by congressional elections and the first session of congress."

The Resolutions

The resolution concludes:

"Be it resolved by the general assembly of the State of Ohio that we hereby apply to the congress of the United States of America, to call a convention for proposing amendments to the constitution of the United States of America and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the governor of each of these United States for transmission to the respective legislatures thereof."

It is required that the legislatures of two thirds of the 48 states unite in such a memorial to obtain action. This provision has never been invoked before in the manner set forth in the Cross resolution.

School Heads Beat Ordinary Schedule

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 25—Oil City goes on record as being one of the first places in the country to elect teachers for the new school year which starts next September. Announcements of appointments were made by the authorities Tuesday.

There were few changes, two teachers not not being re-elected, who had asked for permission to leave the local schools, and one new teacher being appointed.

Yale Graduate Breaks Down Under Strain Of Work

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 25.—Howard L. Phillips, brilliant Yale graduate now studying in the department of drama at the university, has broken down under the strain of six years of work, and will be placed under treatment, according to officials at Yale. Phillips was arrested here in the act of taking money from the room of a fellow student at Yale when he had no need for the money.

Dean Everett V. Meeks, of the art school, and Professor George Pierce Baker, of the department of the drama, today declared they are confident "Mr. Phillips is not wholly responsible for what he did." Yale officials already have arranged for a medical examination of the youth and will see he gets treatment if diagnosis is what they believe it to be.

"Mr. Phillips has been a student at Yale for six years and has always been held in highest respect by his instructors and classmates," Dean Meeks and Professor Baker said.

HOUDINI'S WIFE FAST ABANDONING HOPE OF ANY SPIRIT MESSAGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Hope of hearing from the spirit of her dead husband is fast being abandoned by Mrs. Harry Houdini, widow of the stage magician she said today upon sailing for a vacation in Bermuda.

"I am afraid there is not much hope," said Mrs. Houdini, "although I haven't given up entirely."

Houdini who spent the later years of his life exposing spiritualistic frauds, promised before his death to communicate with his wife if such a thing were possible.

Former Football Player Becomes Wealthy Oil Man

(International News Service)

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Feb. 25.—George A. Henshaw, Jr., of Oklahoma City, came here several years ago to work in the oil fields of West Texas and condition himself for football at college.

Now, it has turned out that he conditioned himself to become a millionaire.

Starting in as a roughneck and working as a toolie, Henshaw put his business sense to work and began acquiring acreage in the then new field. He bought more acreage until he had holdings in several West Texas oil fields.

He formed an oil company, known as the George A. Henshaw, Jr., and Company, and operated throughout this district for several years until he had fourteen producers on a 320-acre lease.

Recently Henshaw sold his company to the Texas Company for about $2,000,000, the exact figure to be decided by guaging the wells which have been averaging between 6,000 and 7,000 barrels daily. This oil is netting about $2.30 per barrel.

Besides the sale price, Henshaw had cleared something like $300,000 on oil and gas produced before the sale. About a month ago he sold a block in Hoard county for $35,000.

Sale of Henshaw's company is rivaled in importance in oil deals in this section only by the sale of a small amount of producing acreage to the Magnolia Petroleum company by W. H. Dunning, Jr., of Fort Worth. This deal netted Dunning about $2,000,000.

Macomber Spending $400,000 Outfitting His Floating Palace

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Four hundred thousand dollars are being spent in building and fitting out a veritable floating palace for A. K. Macomber, the California millionaire sportsman, at Southampton. The last word in ocean-going luxury, Macomber has had her named "Crusader" and she will shortly undergo her official trials.

Three hundred workmen have combined to make her as near perfect artistically as possible. She is not intended for racing, but will be used as a floating home. Perfectly appointed cabins and all manner of cunning contrived gadgets abound. The dining-room is panelled in dove-gray, with silver fittings and tiled fireplaces.

Of 547 tons, the yacht is 183 feet long, and every inch of space has been utilized to give homelike living conditions for guests and her crew of twenty-two. Macomber's own stateroom is a spacious apartment furnished in mahogany.

An electrical refrigerator has been installed to provide iced-drinks direct to the dining room. Miles of hidden wiring and a multi-tube radio set will bring radio concerts from all over the world.

She will be able to cruise six thousand knots at a speed of thirteen knots an hour without touching port.

Some idea of the cost of running the yacht can be gathered from the fact that the wages bill for officers and crew will be more than $25,000 a year.

Museum Of Nice Gets Portrait Of Josephine

(International News Service)

PARIS, Feb. 25.—A portrait of the Empress Josephine, painted in 1808 by Baron Gros, has just been added to the Museum of Nice. The wife of Napoleon is standing, dressed in a very low-necked white gown and wearing a purple scarf. In front of her is a bust of Prince Eugene which she is regarding with an expression of exquisite tenderness. On the table at one side is an hortensia plant in flower, delicate allusion to Queen Hortense.

Connoisseurs find that the work is excellent, one of the most beautiful souvenirs of the empire, and believe that it should find a place in the Louvre.

Dried mushrooms constitute one of Poland's most important exports.

Machine Gun Men Vie For Trophy

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 25.—A trophy for excellence in machine gun practice will be awarded annually to an army machine gun company to comply with the provisions of a $15,000 bequest in the will of Captain Edwin Howard Clark. A Baltimore firm of bankers, administrators of Clark's estate, has notified Major General R. H. Allen, Chief of Infantry, of the bequest and he is preparing rules for the competition.

Captain Clark served as a machine gun officer in France and was shell-shocked in the battle of Belleau Wood. Returning to the United States, he was retired in 1920 because of his disability. He died July 29, 1923.

Bomb Wrecks Portion Of Home

Former City Court Justice's Home in Brooklyn Target—None Hurt

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Former City Court Justice John Palmieri, 56, his wife and their four children narrowly escaped death early today when a time bomb wrecked the front of their home in Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn.

The force of the infernal machine hurled all six from their beds and threw terror into the residents of this fashionable section.

Two men in a sedan were seen to drive up to the house about 15 minutes before the explosion; one walked up to the porch, dropped "something" and hurried back to the machine, which sped off.

Every window in the house, in which there are about 15 rooms, was shattered. The front of the house was a total wreck.

A large squad of detectives are scouring the city for these two men, who police are certain were the writers of two threatening letters which Palmieri received about two months ago.

The letters warned the former judge that his house would be blown up unless he complied with their demand at once for $50,000.

Start Probe Into Vessel Collision

Fog Blamed For Crash Of Two Steamers Near Baltimore

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Feb. 25.—A federal investigation opened today into the steamship collision between two Bay Line vessels, The City of Richmond and the City of Annapolis yesterday.

There was only one fatality, Miss Virginia Starkey, 20, of Baltimore. Her cabin was directly in the path of the tearing prow of the Richmond as it struck the Annapolis, and she was either killed by the collision or drowned, steamship officials believe.

The Richmond did not attempt to back away from the Annapolis after she struck, and by this holding her prow in the gaping hole enabled the Annapolis to stay afloat until her 47 passengers and 53 crew stepped from one vessel to the other. Then the Annapolis sank.

Fog is blamed for the accident.

MISSING GIRL IS LOCATED IN NEW YORK TOWN

(International News Service)

COHOES, N. Y., Feb. 25.—"I guess it was wanderlust."

This was the explanation given today by Kasia Mahoney, 15-year-old daughter of Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney, of New York city, found here today after being mysteriously missing from her home since Monday morning.

"I have seen some of the world and I will be glad to return home and start in school again," said Miss Mahoney.

The girl was interviewed in the office of Police Chief Louis King of this city.

Miss Mahoney walked into police headquarters last night and asked for a night's lodging. Chief King thought he recognized the girl as Miss Mahoney and he started to question her. Not until today did she finally admit her identity.

'I knew I would have to give up my little trip through the state in the end because my money was gone," said Miss Mahoney. "I have enjoyed every minute of the time that I have been away from home, but I am sorry if I caused my parents any worry."

Police Chief King communicated with the New York city police department as soon as the girl admitted her identity.

"I just received a telephone message from Commissioner McLaughlin of the New York police department that a man had left New York on his way to Cohoes and would take the girl back with him late today," said King.

Dr. Stone Declares No Warfare Between Science And Religion

"There is no warfare between science and religion," said Dr. John Timothy Stone last night at the First Presbyterian church in the second of a series of four sermons being delivered yesterday and today.

The auditorium of the First church was crowded with people anxious to hear this great leader of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Stone who is one of the most popular preachers of the Presbyterian church has been secured for a series of four sermons being conducted in the Central Presbyterian church at the noon hour and the First Presbyterian church in the evening at 7:45. His last sermon will be delivered this evening at the First church, on "Facing the Divine Realities of Life."

In speaking upon the subject "The Three-fold Gift of God" last night, Dr. Stone laid special emphasis upon the power of God although he did not be-little in the least the other two gifts of God, His love and His wisdom.

In speaking of science and the Bible, he said, that astronomy and every other science did not controvert the Bible but rather verified it. He said that the knowledge of science does not break faith but builds it.

Speaking of faith and knowledge, he said that we first have belief in a power and then we receive knowledge. Paul said, "I know in whom I have believed." If the whom is all right then the what we believe will come all right, he said. It is a personality, that is the heart of every institution. So it takes a personality, a power to make a real living religion.

Dr. Stone, in speaking of different denominations in the church likened it to a wheel, saying there would be no progress unless there were spokes pointing in different directions, yet all these spokes must be centered in one hub, even Jesus Christ.

The love of God finds its outlet in religious service to all mankind, he said. All great leaders of the church did not become real Christians until they reached out and helped the unfortunate.

Bigley Receives Word Of Death Of Charlie Bennett

Famous Local Ball Player Of Years Ago, Dies At Home In Detroit, Michigan

News of the death of Charlie Bennett in Detroit was received here today by Ed. Bigley, who back in the days of half a century ago was a teammate of Bennett on the old Neshannocks. Bennett had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected.

In addition to Mr. Bigley, R. H. Whaley and Joe McCaslin of this city were teammates of Bennett, as well as Eugene Richardson of Cleveland, O. Others who played in the famous Neshannocks have passed away.

Bennett was born in New Castle and was a baseball catcher of national prominence. He went from New Castle to Detroit in 1874 and played with that team for some years, then went to Boston, where he was the mainstay of the team. Thirty-three years ago Mr. Bennett was in a railroad accident and suffered the loss of his legs.

Several weeks ago Mr. Bigley made a visit to the bedside of Mr. Bennett in Detroit and the old days in New Castle were discussed in a pathetic vein by Mr. Bennett.

Some of the old New Castle friends will probably go to Detroit for the funeral.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

Below is a simple but perfectly balanced luncheon menu. It contains everything necessary for the maintenance of health—calories, protein, minerals and vitamines.

Cheese Toast — Lettuce Salad
Applesauce — Cookies
Tea — Milk

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Cheese Toast—Two tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, one cup shredded cheese salt and pepper, six slices toast. Melt the butter, stir in the flour, add the milk and cheese and stir until smooth and thick. Season to taste and pour over slices of hot toast.

Apple Sauce—Six tart apples; water, one-half cup sugar — or more, cinnamon or nutmeg to taste. Wash and quarter the apples, removing the blossom end. Put them in a sausepan with just enough water to cover and cook until soft. Strain, add the sugar and spices, cook five minutes beat well and serve hot or cold.

SUGGESTIONS.

The children's bureau of the department of labor has just issued a bulletin of "Milk" by Dr. Dorothy Reed Mendenhall in which the importance and uses of milk are reviewed. She says: "Every child from 1 to 16 years of age is better for having a quart of milk in his daily diet and his minimum allowance should be one and one-half pints daily. An adult needs one pint daily. Milk can be used in the cooking of food and so disguised for those who do not like it as a drink."

Macaroons Made With Bran.

Two egg whites beaten stiff; one cup sugar, one teaspoon vanila, one cup bran, one teaspoon baking powder, three-quarter cup cocoanut, one-quarter teaspoon salt. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar and beat again. Add other ingredients in the order given. Drop by small spoonsful on a greased baking sheet Avoid crowding and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 15 minutes. Remove from the pan at once as they have a tendency to stick while cooling.

Strict Secrecy In School Probe Of Alleged "Scandal"

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 25.—President Frank S. President Trotter continued his investigation of the case, in which a member of the 1926 football team is said to be involved.

Your Income Tax

Income Tax in a Nutshell:

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 34.

Various penalties are imposed by the revnue act of 1926 for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time, and for making a fraudulent return. Distinction is made between failure and "willful failure" to file a return. For failure to file a return on time the penalty is 25 per cent of the amount of the tax unless a return is later filed and it is satisfactorily shown to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that such failure was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. If a taxpayer exercised ordinary business cares and prudence and nevertheless was unable to file a return within the prescribed time the delay is due to a "reasonable cause."

For willful failure to make a return the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year or both and in addition 25 per cent of the amount of the tax. For willfully making a false or fraudulent return the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both and in addition 50 per cent of the amount of the tax in case of a deficiency.

If there is a deficiency there is added to the tax interest on the amount of such deficiency at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax to the date the deficiency is assessed. In addition there is added 4 per cent of the amount of the deficiency if due to negligence but without intent to defraud. If due to fraud the amount added in addition is 50 per cent of the deficiency.

Rich Co-Ed Expelled By Syracuse Sues Demanding Re-Instatement

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Expelled from Syracuse University last October without any good reasons given, she claims, beyond the assertion that she was not the "Syracuse type," Beatrice Anthony, 21, daughter of a wealthy Binghamption manufacturer and a former junior in the College of Domestic Science and Home Economics, appeared in special term before Judge Edward N. Smith, plaintiff in an action to compel the University to reinstate her.

The suit brought by Miss Anthony is the first of its kind ever instituted against Syracuse University and, as far as the records show, the first of its kind to be brought against any institution of learning, it is said.

The action involves a fine question of law, and a decision will determine whether a university or other institutions of learning may summarily dismiss a student without just cause after the student has attended for some length of time and successfully met the scholastic requirements.

Asks Faculty To Explain

The plaintiff, in addition to demanding her reinstatement as a student, is also asking that the faculty of the university explain the reasons for her dimissal, which she alleges, she has never been able to obtain.

The University Board of Trustees is fighting the suit to preserve a principle and maintain a rule of the University, taking the position that the dismissal of Miss Anthony was wholly within the right of the faculty and in accordance with the rules governing the acceptance or dismissal of any student.

It contends that attendance at the University is "a priviledge and not a right, and in order to safeguard its scholarship and atmosphere the University reserves the right to request the withdrawal of any student when the student's presence is deemed detrimental," quoting from the rule upon which the defense is combatting the action.

Both sides are represented by counsel.

Miss Anthony sets forth in her complaint that she entered the university in September, 1923, pursuing her duties there until she was dismissed last October. She alleges that in June she was informed that she might return in September and did so, remaining until October 6, when she alleges, without being given any good reason she was informed she must leave.

She relates that she consulted Chancellor Charles W. Flint, Vice-Chancellor William P. Graham, Dean Marguerite Woodruff and other members of the faculty, requesting that they explain to her why she was being summarily dismissed, but that in no instance did she obtain any information beyond the statements that she "was not just the Syracuse type" and that it was deemed best that she be requested to leave the University.

Wants To Graduate

Repeating requests for information regarding her dismissal and demands that she be reinstated and permitted to complete her last year in college and to graduate, if proficient, were all met with refusal, she alleges.

She relates that she was studying domestic science and home economics with a view to becoming a teacher and that her dismissal resulted in a situation depriving her of means of livelihood.

While the action of the trial revolves solely upon the question of whether the university has the right to dismiss a student without reason beyond not considering her a "Syracuse type," it was intimated that an action for damage might follow.

Child Murderers Terrorize Hungary

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Feb. 25.—Child murderers are terrorizing many districts of Southern Hungary, where more than thirty people have been killed by boys and girls during the last six months. There is no explanation for the criminal tendency of the youthful generation, whose murders are clumsily done, except the great demoralization which has followed the war and which strongly influences the tempermental Hungarians, causing them, among other things, to establish a record for ten or more suicides a day during the last year.

A score of children are in jail at present for crimes and several have been sentenced to government institutions but beyond latent legal action the government is unable to halt this wave of puerile crime.

The latest murder-by-child is reported from the village of Dunaadony in Southeast Hungary where the innkeeper, Vilmos Mueller, and his wife were found murdered and their servant girl badly wounded. The murder was discovered as the villagers were returning from church and they entered the inn to investigate. As the injured girl, Maria Acs, was being carried out to the hospital she suddenly called out, "There is the murderer," pointing to one of the village boys Janos Steirer, a miller's son. She fell back and died.

The youth attempted to run away but was arrested and confessed to the triple-crime.

King Boris Gives Medal To American

(International News Service)

SOFIA, Feb. 25.—King Boris has awarded Dr. E. B. Halkell, one of the two oldest American missionaries in the Balkans, a medal for meritorious service on the occasion of Dr. Haskell's thirty-fifth anniversary of his coming to Bulgaria.

A noted preacher and educator, Dr. Haskell is shortly leaving for the United States, where, owing to his great age, he plans to make his permanent home.

Thousands Endorse World's Tonic

When hundreds of your own townspeople are loud in the praise of the World's Tonic, why do you continue to go about half dead?

It's a wonderful medicine for people who have run down in health, because it arouses and energizes every function of the body, removes the clogging congestion that we call catarrh, and sets up a circulation of good rich blood that speedily repairs and strengthens the organs.

Made This Man Well

Fred Sack, who lives at 410 Electric street, is a fair example. Mr. Sack had catarrhal trouble with his stomach—nothing he ate agreed with him, and he seemed to be carrying a load in his stomach all the time. Mornings he had a bitter taste in his mouth, felt tired and generally wretched. Let him tell it.

"I got a bottle of World's Tonic from my druggist. Before I had taken half of it I noticed a change. I began to enjoy my meals. When I had taken a bottle I knew I was on the right course. The third bottle finished the job, and I am well. You cannot know how grateful I am—and I never fail to tell my friends of the value of this remarkable medicine. It's great."

Try it for yourself. That's the best proof in the world—and when you are well you will be as enthusiastic as Mr. Sack.

Frenchman May Be Only Challenger For Harmsworth Trophy

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich, Feb. 25. — Although Henri Esders, who sent the France-Excelsior to America last Fall, is virtually out of running as a Harmsworth Trophy challenger because of business reasons, there may be a French challenger in the person of Dr. Etchegoyen, who is contemplating building a boat for the international race.

This information was given by Paul Bernard, European representative of the Yachtsmen's Association of America, who was the guest of honor at a D. A. C. luncheon of the association.

Bernard said that Dr. Etchegoyen has not definitely made his decision but is considering building a boat for the big race. The French motorboate enthusiast is sending a 1½ litre boat to this country next Summer to compete against the Canadian and American boats of this type and may make it a dual mission by challenging for the Harmsworth race. Other than Etcheboyen there are no challengers in sight, according to Bernard.

Mr. Bernard stated that the lack of funds is a big handicap to building challenging European craft at the present time and recommended that American yachtsmen, who are better fixed in this respect, send boats across to stimulate interest in the game, which is in its infancy over there.

"Right now, England, France, Belgium and Italy are the foremost European nations in fast boat construction," he stated. "They will, in time have boats that can compete against the Americans with a chance to win but funds now are lacking due to the war and other setbacks."

Youth Of Peking Calls First Chop Suey Good

PEKING, Feb. 25.—The young bloods of Peking are having their first taste of chop suey—the "Chinese" dish invented in America—and they pronounce it good.

The new restaurant which serves chop suey in Peking is on Morrison street, about two blocks from the Legation quarter and less than half a mile from the Forbidden City. There at the tea hour, and at night, may be found a motley assortment of "Young China," that is, students and youths returned from abroad with their feminine friends.

Young Chinese blades of Peking Charleston there, with Oxford bags flopping around ankles and knees. Pretty Chinese girls with unbound feet, bobbed hair and short skirts are their partners.

"Decent treatment, reasonable wages and human hours" will be sought by the butlers, cooks, footmen and maidservants of Boston, who have taken the preliminary steps for the organization of a union. When the plans are perfected application will be made to the American Federation of Labor for a charter.

This whole-grain food

brings extra flavor—extra nourishment

The natural, unspoiled flavor of the whole grain—that's what makes a bowl of Mother's Oats taste so good. It cooks so smoothly, too—and you can always count on it being the same.

For the careful millers of Mother's Oats have learned how to make oats finer—smoother—more uniform—through 50 years of experience.

Children notice the difference at once.

And mothers are especially glad to see their growing children enjoy this nourishing breakfast. They know how child health specialists are urging the whole grains these days.

Mother's Oats with milk makes a liberal contribution of vitamins—minerals—protein and other elements that are necessary for sound and perfect development.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, good for silverware and many other handsome articles.

Moore Returns From Convention

Circus Fans Association Has Convention At Bradford—New Castle Honored

Winfield S. Moore of this city, has just returned from Bradford, Pa., where he attended the first state convention of the Circus Fans Association of America and participated in the various activities of the convention, one of the more important of which was the decision made to name the state organization, the Bob Hunting Tent, each state organization, being by reason of the purpose and intents of the membership and organization designated as tents.

The organization in deciding to call the state organization the Bob Hunting Tent, honored the late showman, who was a native and resident of the state and who in his time was one of the best known circus men. He was one of the few showmen born and reared in Pennsylvania.

New Castle is honored in the selection of this name, as this city was his home for many, many years, and he carried the name and fame of this district into many places, before it had reached its present day size and importance. This city was the base for his circus, which was widely known in this section of the country.

The object of this organization is to eliminate "Grifters," that well known undesirable element which makes a practice of "trailing" shows from city to city and are not connected in any way with the circus. The state organization at its meeting adopted a resolution expressing the opinion that all so called grift shows be banned from any support and that the national organization should investigate and publish its findings with reference to such shows in order to enable the members to discriminate between clean and grifter shows.

Membership in the Circus Fans Association of America is limited and this city is exceptionally fortunate in having two members, Winfield S. Moore and Cowden Moore. As the name indicates, it is made up of circus fans and not show people, and its object is to elevate the type of circus performances that are presented to the people today, also eliminate all undesirable followers of circuses.

Secretary Wilbur Once Writer Of Fairy Tales

(International News Service)

WASHINGON, Feb. 25..—"And the fairy princess saved them. Sleep well, children."

Back in California Curtis D. Wilbur was known as an author of note of bedtime stories for children. He spent years scrivening tales to amuse little children.

The reputation followed him to Washington when he was appointed by President Coolidge as secretary of navy a post which deals with steel and guns and death. It followed naturally that Wilbur was made the brunt of considerable jesting. It apparently pleased him not at all for he has since, consistently said that his bedtime tales were the products of 20 years ago, not the present.

To confound him more, his regime in the navy has been marked by more disasters than any other recent peace-time history. There were the Shenandoah crash, the Lake Denmark explosion, the Point Honda disaster, the submarine S-51 sinking, to mention a few.

"Unlucky" Secretary.

For these no one holds Wilbur accountable but it is a fact that for a time the accidents followed so rapidly that people in Washington were dubbing Wilbur the "Unlucky Secretary."

One group or another has kept Wilbur in hot water from time to time. The air service enthusiasts rapped him during the Mitchell investigation because he opposed a separate air corps, and another group criticized him for allowing the Shenandoah to fly to the west during a period of storms.

One of Wilbur's chief worries is that he is two pounds overweight. He is six feet two inches tall and weighs 192 pounds. Doctors say he should tip the scales at 190. To aid the fight against obesity he gets up early every morning to take the radio exercises usually walks to the office, bowls frequently and swings Indian clubs, a pasttime which he carried over from his naval academy days.

Good With Clubs.

"I am pretty good at swinging the clubs" he said "but there isn't much room in the house and I have broken up several fixtures."

He is interested in the welfare of boys and frequently takes 30 or 40 youngsters with him to a mountain camp. One summer he agreed to pay the boys 15 cents an hour and charged them 50 cents a day for board.

"Some of the boys used to get up at 3 or 4 in the morning to start work" he explained. "My bills soon ran up and I had to post a notice that work was not to start before six."

Building Crafts Tieup May Occur In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 25. — Work on millions of dollars worth of construction in Pittsburgh's golden triangle, the downtown business section, will cease Tuesday morning, unless members of five building crafts in the district come to terms with their employers here. The employers today stood definitely committed to a scale of wages which the five crafts have refused.

Monday night was set by the employers here as the last date at which the union men are to be given an opportunity to accept the scale. The unionists have demanded a substantial raise in pay, and three classes of craftsmen demand a five day week.

Several theater buildings, representing millions of dollars in construction cost, are involved in the tie-up.

The safest thing to ride in is a truck; the most dangerous thing to ride in is a reverie.

The smaller the town, the more places there are where a poor man can have it charged.

Many Signers To The Kindergarten Petition Announced

Parent-Teachers Association To Donate Kindergarten Equipment To Board

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25.—Mrs. A. F. Paetzel, chairman of the committee to put the kindergarten across as part of the local school institutions for 1927, announced today that she wished to make clear to the people of Ellwood City just what was necessary in the workings of this project.

In the first place, if a petition is presented to the school board signed by 25 people or more, the board has to put in a kindergarten department. However, if they feel that they have not sufficient funds to finance same, they can levy a tax of not over two mills to take care of the expense. All equipment for a kindergarten for the Hartman school has been furnished by the Parent-Teachers association so that all the equipment needed to be purchased by the board will be that of the North Side school.

It is hoped that the board will have enough money that it will not be necessary to levy any more tax, as they can run the kindergarten much cheaper than the parent-teachers could, because of their connections with the state.

Attractive Woman Missionary Heard

Election Of Officers Takes Place At Missionary Meeting Of Presbyterians

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Sherman Stauffer, of Bellevue, a returned Missionary from Egypt where she was affiliated with that interesting race through her position as kindergarten teacher, gave a most interesting talk to the members of the Womens Missionary society at a monthly all-day session which took place in the church yesterday. Mrs. Stauffer, by the sheer force of her personality, took the ladies through the rather commonplace book "Moslem Women" into the land of the Egyptians with her, and carried them through a series of exciting incidents through to the close of her review. Mrs. Stauffer is a former Butler resident, and before her marriage was Miss Graham of Butler, her sister is also in Missionary work.

At the afternoon session the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. E. C. Porter; vice president, Mrs. Ray Chambers; recording secretary, Mrs. W. R. Johnston; benevolent treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Kerr; contingent secretary, Mrs. John Brenneman; stewardship secretary, Mrs. A. M. Stevenson; secretary of literature, Mrs. Harvey Aiken, chairman of music, Mrs. George Dambach; white cross chairman, Mrs. C. E. Zeigler and chairman of program, Mrs. Thomas Haines.

Hiking Club Enjoys Trek To Chewton Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25. — About fifteen members of the Hiking Club enjoyed a Trek to Chewton where they enjoyed a picnic lunch in the basement of the Chewton Christian church. The lunch had been sent on ahead by machine and a pleasant informal time was enjoyed with story-telling and songs.

Rev. A. M. Stevenson, in charge of the hike, reports that the trip back was full of adventures because it was "Black as Egypt", the only lights the hikers received being the occasional glare of passing head-lights, which almost ran them down. On the way to Chewton the club viewed with interest the advent of a spring robin, and a noisy flock of about 100 crows who whirred just above them on their way south.

Pittsburgh Man Talks To Rotary

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25. — Local Rotarians enjoyed an address on "Rotary Education" by A. W. Smith of Pittsburgh, last night on the occasion of their regular weekly dinner-meeting in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Smith was district governor of Rotary at the time the local club was organized, and has displayed a pronounced interest in the activities of the club since. His talk was very interesting from a club standpoint, instilling a fresh supply of pep into the members with his vivid ideas and splendid messages, derived from his long association with Rotary work.

Many Stalled On Mile Hill Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25. — About thirty machines from Ellwood City and New Castle slid helplessly down, or up, the mile hill between Ellwood City and New Castle yesterday afternoon. Prof. Thompson Makes Address

Tells Ellwood Kiwanians Of Trip Made By Washington In District

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25.—Prof. Kirk Thompson, principal of the Hartman school, gave an interesting biographical talk on Washington at the regular weekly dinner-meeting last night of the Kiwanis club in the dining room of the Methodist Episcopal church.

What made his address so interesting to the local men was that he proved that many of the important incidents in the revolutionary war happened right in this vicinity. He claimed that Washington's father was the Henry Ford of his day, a fact that is not generally known, and that he helped finance the war. It is a fact, according to historical statistics, that Washington crossed the Connoquenessing creek at the spot where the pump house now stands, at Wurtemburg. He also crossed at Knox stop, but there was so much mud, he detoured through Duck run to the site where New Castle now holds forth. Washington and his detail then went on to Fort LeBleu, which is now the city of Waterford, near Erie, through Butler county, to Virginia. Indians shot at them while they were crossing the bridge at Millvale.

An exciting membership contest concluded last evening with the awarding of the prize which was won by Michael Edelman after drawing slips. Prof. Ray Smith, president of the club, made a neat address and extended to the lucky winner a postage-stamp picture of Washington, tastily mounted on a large card.

Bud Silverman of Pittsburgh and manager of the Liberty and Stand theaters here, was a guest at last night's meeting. Rev. L. J. Baker and William Thomas were taken in as active members.

Minstrels Score Hit At First Show

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 25.—To a packed auditorium in the Bell Memorial church the cast of Black-Faced Minstrels put on their stunts with ease and sangfroid that indicated much practice last night. The members of the cast numbered 20 and were all of the Allison Memorial Bible class of the Bell Memorial church and proceeds of the show will be turned over to the building fund of the church.

The songs and humorous stories convulsed the audience and Prof. Kirk Thompson as interlocutor kept things going at a snappy pace.

Soloists and those having leading parts in the show were Messrs. Harold Marshal, Thayer Peters, Stanley Hindmarsch, William Neat, Jess Brown, Kenneth Parker, James and Earl Marshal and Arthur Brown. The entire show is directed by Kenneth Parker and all were dressed in minstrel suits and black faced except the interlocutor and two comedy characters.

Kiwanis Scouts Meet For Tests

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25. — The Kiwanis Scout troop conducted a regular weekly meeting last night in the Hartman school, and passed several members through the scout tests.

METHODIST LEAGUERS ENJOY AMBRIDGE MEET

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Feb. 25—About twenty-five members of the Methodist Epworth League were entertained in Ambridge last night at the Ambridge Methodist church at the annual Epworth League Rally. Councilmen Vote To Pay For Paving

Davies, Genkinger And Dunlap Approve Arlington Avenue Payment

By a majority vote of council today the city of New Castle voted to pay a balance of $14,381.04 to the John B. Thorson company for the paving of Arlington avenue between East Washington street and Cunningham avenue.

After City Engineer Frank Miller had recommended final payment, Councilman Davies presented a motion concurring in his action, and this was seconded by Councilman Genkinger.

When the roll call was taken Davies, Genkinger and Mayor Dunlap voted to pay the company. Burns refused to vote but Councilman W. V. Tyler cast a negative ballot.

Councilman Burns explained his attitude by declaring that a protest against payment had been entered by property-owners and he indicated he would refuse to sign the certificates.

He explained that should developments occur he legally would be held culpable, despite any instructions from city councilmen.

Councilman Tyler voted negatively because he feared that should the roughness of the thoroughfare cause an accident the city would be held liable.

Councilman Burns said he considered the job honestly done by honest people.

During the discussion J. L. Maxwell, representative of the firm, made an inference that the controversy could have been "squashed" had he wished to pay out $100.

He said:

"I could have squashed the entire thing for $100. I refused. I'm not that kind of a man."

Councilman Tyler immediately demanded: "Was that person a member of city council?"

Mr. Maxwell said he was not a member of council.

After the proceedings a News reporter asked Maxwell to name the man.

He refused, stating that no actual demand, but rather the inference, had been made that the controversy could be settled for money.

Mr. Maxwell said that the person referred to was not a property owner.

Games were played, which were enjoyed by all. Instructions were given for the coming week. After the regular closing exercises, the troop was dismissed.

The Handicraft Club meets tonight at seven o'clock sharp at the home of Jack Grittie. The Marksmanship Club meeting will be postponed for one week. Tuesday, March 1, the Treck-Cart Club will meet at the home of Jack Grittie.

SPAGHETTI SUPPER

The members of the Lawrence County Council attended the Spaghetti Supper held last night by the Italian M. E. church in a body. A good attendance was present and the supper was very much enjoyed by all.

Special reservations were made for the members of this council of the Boy Scouts. The members of this church are much interested in the worthy cause of Scouting and back it to its fullest extent, so the council in turn did the same for the church.

Recreation Board Will Be Appointed

Council and a committee from the school board will meet next week for the purpose of making appointments to the recreation board, Councilman Tyler having introduced an ordinance providing for the appointment of such a board today. According to the provisions of the board seven men will govern the recreation board which will recommend plans for the management of parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities to city council.

Three members will be non-office holders, two will be school directors and two others will be councilmen.

MEN ARRESTED IN ELLWOOD; IN JAIL

In default of bail, they have been placed in the county jail to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace Long of Ellwood City on Monday evening.

Hughes Likely Candidate For 1928 Nomination

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Charles Evans Hughes is being groomed for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1928—provided Calvin Coolidge decides not to be a candidate for a third term.

New York Republican leaders are preparing to stage a comeback for the man who was the unsuccessful candidate of the party in 1916, and there is evidence that President Coolidge himself is giving Mr. Hughes every opportunity to gain power in the party organization.

When confronted with the possibility that the Democrats would be made extremely happy by the choice of Hughes as the Republican nominee, New York Republicans who are backing him for the nomination declare that the former associate justice of the United States supreme court is today a different man from the presidential candidate of 1916.

CRUISES SEA TO STOP TOOTHACHES

SEATTLE, Feb. 25.—With a dentist's chair and full equipment stowed under the hatches of his 40-foot schooner, Dr. William F. Good will leave in March on a crusade against toothache that will take him to isolated settlements along the coast of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands half way to Japan. This north seas cruise will be his second annual adventure.

"It's a great life," he said. "We tie up for three or four days at some town where there is no dentist. The pilot house is converted into a dental office, and after toothaches of whites and Eskimos have been relieved we sail on to some other place."

The present year marks the 100th anniversary of John Bentley's invention of a machine to supersede the work of boys in chimney sweeping in England.

Indians Mourning "Old Mack" Famous As Medicine Man

(International News Service)

CHEHALIS RESERVE, B. C., Feb. 25.—Old Mack, a centenarian, and reputed to be one of the greatest of all Indian medicine men in British Columbia, has passed on to the "happy hunting grounds."

For more than 20 years Old Mack had been blind and Indians hinted that his blindness was caused by another Indian doctor who in his anger struck him with a "bad spirit" between the eyes.

All his life even in the coldest winter weather he bathed daily in the glacial waters of the Harrison river.

Death was due to natural causes.

'NO THRILL AT ALL,' WOMAN WHO KILLED AFRICAN LION TAMER

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. — Two cheetahs were traveling companions of Mr. and Mrs. John Wentworth of Chicago on the liner Paris, which arrived here today.

The cheetahs, tfiey said, were trained to hunt by an Indian princess. Mrs. Wentworth, who said she weighed 105 pounds, told of killing a 400-pound lion in Africa.

"No thrill at all," she told reporters. "The lion didn't charge down on me, so I got no kick. No, I'd never shot anything before, except clay pigeons."

Pays $6,000 For Fiddle Worth $600

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—For twenty-one years Louis Roeder, former wealthy Los Angeles druggist, thought he owned a rare Cremona violin made in 1739. Roeder, a lover of rare fiddles, purchased the supposed Cremona in 1905 for $6,000.

A short time ago, however, Roeder attempted to sell the violin and offered it to collectors for appraisal. They scorned the instrument, telling him it was worth less than $100.

Now Roeder is suing a local music house in an attempt to recover the $6,000. The plaintiff, claims, in his suit which is on file in Superior Court here, that he purchased the violin from an authorized agent of the local music dealers.

The music firm, however, denies that Roeder bought the violin from their accredited representative.

Collectors explained that perhaps the violin in litigation is a Cremona, but one that was manufactured in the later and declining years of craftsmanship. Violins made in Cremona by Giuseppe Antonio, known as "Guarneri del Gesu," compare favorably with the best instruments of the great Stradivarious.

Large Arctic Owl Is Killed

(International News Service)

BATAVIA, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Although seriously hampered by the dragging weight of a large steel trap in which it had escaped after pulling out the attaching staple, a large white Arctic owl, noted with the trap on its leg for more than a month, was shot here while feeding on the body of a pheasant it had just captured.

The strength and fortitude of the northern visitor had been a topic of discussion here for a month, many hunters having noticed its hampered flight.

Government Sends Indian Graduate To Study Reservations

(International News Service)

ABERDEEN, Wash., Feb. 25.—Henry R. Cloud, representative of the government Indian survey office in Washington, D. C., is reviving Indian affairs at Taholah, near here as a part of the general survey of all Indians tribes being made throughout the United States. His findings will be the basis of a report to be made later to the bureau of Indian affairs in relation to suggested improvements to be recommended or undertaken.

Cloud is a member of the Winnebago tribe of Nebraska, and a Yale graduate. He is giving his entire time and study to Indian affairs. He declared that the Taholah Indian agency is located on the most romantic and picturesque land of any Indian settlement in the United States.

England Will Save Ancient Cottages

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Premier Baldwin is heading the widespread movement for the preservation of old-time English country cottages.

"It is difficult", said the premier, in a speech to the Royal Society of Arts, "to exaggerate the importance which architecture has played in the national life.

"Medieaval craftmanship which has come down to our time has an appearance of natural growth wholly lacking in the "abortions of red brick and slate" in the industrial areas.

"While we all recognize the civilizing power of good housing, we have to confess that we and our immediate ancestors have neglected it from this and every viewpoint.

"William Morris once said that it was his duty to stain wall paper with poetry. No one can say we have stained buildings with poetry in the past two or three generations. We have to see if we can again tap the old springs of craftmanship. We want to preserve old houses, not as curiosities, but to bring them back into the main stream of national life."

The half-a-day man

FOR months he had hated to face it. . . . He was slipping. Losing out. He who once had shown such shining promise! His old-time vigor had gone. Ambition, itself. What had happened? He seemed to grow weary before the day was half-way through! What dreadful scourge was sapping his energy?

Constipation blights many a bright career. It destroys initiative. It weakens the body and leads to disease after disease. Yet, for all its insidious destructiveness, constipation can be relieved. It can be prevented! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to give relief—to bring prevention!

Why part-bran products are ineffective

Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran. They know that 100% bran means 100% results! Here is why:

As ALL-BRAN journeys through the system it releases moisture which its "bulk" absorbs in generous quantity. And it gently distends the intestines—purifying, cleansing, removing wastes and poisons. ALL-BRAN contains sufficient "bulk" to perform this work—because it is 100% bran. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is so small that there is only a puny amount to do a herculean task.

Don't risk dangerous drugs

How different from pills and drugs whose dose must be constantly increased.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out its full nut-like flavor. Mix it with other cereals. Use it in soups. Try the recipes on every package. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases, with every meal.

Refuse part-bran substitutes. At best, they are but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is the original 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants—on dining-cars.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

Westminster Debaters Will Start Season

Triangular Debate With Geneva And Grove City March 3

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—Although handicapped in preparation by the lack of a library, the varsity debate teams at Westminster College are ready for the opening intercollegiate debate which will come Thursday, March 3. The first test will be a three-cornered debate involving Westminster, Geneva and Grove City.

"Resolved, that the United States should cancel the war debts owed it by the allied nations" is the question to be debated in the first event and throughout the remainder of the season.

Westminster will send its affirmative team to Grove City. This group will be composed of Brown Bricker of Braddock, Howard Hamer of Erie, Thomas Mansell of New Wilmington and Clyde Myers of New Castle. The negative team will remain at home, meeting the affirmative team from Geneva. The negative will have Robert Ferguson of Bellevue, Samuel Colman of Philadelphia, James Chambers of New Castle and William Botsford of Pittsburgh. The affirmative team from Grove City will be at Geneva.

Thursday morning the Westminster squad gave a model debate in the Senior High school of New Castle. The allied war debt question was discussed. Brown Bricker, Thomas Mansell and Howard Hamer composed the affirmative, and Robert Ferguson, James Chambers and Samuel Colman the negative.

There were no judges and no decision rendered.

Name Architects For New Building For Westminster

A. L. Thayer And Co. Of New Castle To Plan New Structure

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—President W. Charles Wallace of Westminster College announced Thursday that A. L. Thayer & Co. of New Castle have been chosen architects for the new building to be erected at Westminster to replace Old Main, the structure entirely destroyed by fire January 24.

The New Castle architect was decided upon at a recent meeting of the building committee. This same committee is directing the work of making plans for the building of the Robert Audley Browne dormitory at the college. They were given the added duties at the meeting of the Prudential committee of the board of trustees, held in Pittsburgh shortly after the disastrous fire.

The members of the committee are: T. A. Gilkey of New Castle, State Senator George Weingartner of New Castle, James A. Chambers of New Castle, H. T. Getty of New Wilmington, R. E. English of Grove City, Reid Kennedy of Pittsburgh, an ex-officio member, and Dr. Wallace.

A. L. Thayer & Co. have performed other work for the college. This concern drew up specifications and plans for the gymnasium erected at the college a few years ago.

It is planned to erect the new Old Main and the dormitory at the same time. At the meeting of the Prudential committee it was decided to raise an emergency fund of $150,000 and to add this to insurance on Old Main, which amounted to $110,000, to erect a new building at a cost of $260,000. The dormitory will cost $160,000, giving the college a building program of $420,000.

It is expected that the building committee will have further plans ready to submit at the regular meeting of the board of trustees the second week in March.

San Quentin Sets Prisoner Record

3,698 Total Is Now The Largest In Seventy-Six Years

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—There are 3,698 prisoners in San Quentin.

This figure, revealed the other day by prison officials, is the largest number that has ever been in that penitentiary at one time during its 76 years of existence. Of this number, 3,555 are behind the walls and 144 in three road camps.

According to officials the increase in numbers at San Quentin has been rapid during the last few years, and is looked upon as alarming. The average intake is from 250 to 300 prisoners per month, and they are not being released very fast.

In comparison with conditions in San Quentin they point out that the state prison of New Hampshire has but 135 convicts, less than the number of inmates required to serve meals in San Quentin. Then there is the larger state of Illinois where the number of prisoners is 2,047, or 1,651 less than in San Quentin.

The increase of arrivals at San Quentin began shortly after the war, according to Capt. Revere Smith, secretary to Warden Frank J. Smith, who traced its rise over a period of 18 years.

CORROBORATION

A class in a London school was set to write about "Mother." When the teacher came to mark the exercises he noticed that two boys, brothers, had written almost the same words.

"John," he complained to the boy he knew to be the culprit, "you've written just what your brother wrote."

"Yes, sir," came the reply, "it's the same mother."

Among the largest trees in the world is the baobab, or monkey-bread tree, of Africa. This remarkable tree has a short, branchy trunk which seldom attains a height of over 700 feet, while its diameter is often as great as 100 feet.

Electricians Have Banquet

Electrical Workers Gather At Elks' Home Thursday Evening

HOWARD CALAHAN ACTS AS TOASTMASTER

Banquet of Local No. 33, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers held last night at the Elk's Home, was such a successful event, that it is probable that it will be an annual event, looked forward to from year to year by the members of the local and the electrical contractors of the city. The members and special guests of the occasion numbered forty.

Howard Calahan acted as toastmaster of the evening and his efforts were such as to increase the interest in the affair and add to the enjoyment of all. With the sumptuous dinner out of the way, the program of the evening was started.

Electrical contractors present, who were guests of the local were called on and responded with remarks of appreciation of the event and the hope that these events would be continued. All expressed the hope of greater co-operation between the employer and the employe in their respective line of business. Those who called on and who spoke were James Gilfillan, C. R. Bartley, H. L. Marvin, A. T. Chamberlain, H. L. Truby, J. P. Merrilees, and H. A. Ebeling.

Members of the local were then called on, Rudolph Schuller, past president, and Earl Young, vice-president, making remarks in keeping with the occasion.

Toastmaster Calahan took occasion to make a few remarks, in which he expressed the opinion that there should be legislation, which would permit a local board of control and regulation, that would eliminate unfair competition and work of a character that was hazardous and not in keeping with the best standards.

The balance of the evening was then spent with musical and dancing numbers by special entertainers as the diversion and with pep singing that proved most enjoyable.

J. Meddiker, pianist, I. C. Zimmerman, violinist and Joe Spagare, banjoist, all of Ellwood City, furnished group and individual numbers that were most pleasing. Mr. Meddiker gave some especially delightful vocal selections. Lester Jones furnished the dancing numbers, giving interesting interpretations of Black Bottom and the Charleston several times during the evening. E. D. Marvin led the pep singing. At the close of the affair, James Gilfillan expressed the appreciation of the contractors for the good time afforded them and expressed the hope that it would not be the last of these occasions.

The committee in charge of this very successful event consisted of E. A. Young, G. A. Cather, C. E. Snyder and V. J. Laughlin.

The Chinese and Japanese can live longer, work longer, or starve longer on a low ration of food than the American or European peoples.

Another very good stimulant is the idea that the boss don't keep second-raters on the payroll.

To Serve the Public Better—Another Forward Step!

The Julian Goldman Store Announces

AN ENTIRELY NEW CLOTHING POLICY

FIRST comes Foresight, then the Pioneer, and then—Progress! To get ahead we must first see ahead!

A man dreamed that the world was round, and America was discovered. Another foresaw the vast power of lightning, and electricity became the great aid and servant to mankind.

And now Men's Clothing!

Anticipating the trend of times (with the same foresight that gave the public the beneficent advantages of the Julian Goldman Plan) the Julian Goldman Store now announces its specialization in the men's clothing field. Henceforth, we will specialize in only two brands of suits at two prices—the Cheswick, $27.50—the Bromford, $37.50—no others!

Foremost as always—we are the first to offer Men's Suits at only two prices combined with the advantages of a credit plan.

With the fixed purpose of producing the best suits that $27.50 and $37.50 could buy we concentrated all our efforts and devoted the vast resources of this organization to this end.

We selected the patterns, we loomed the fabrics, we charted the specifications, we standardized production—with quality as the basis all the way through.

Thus by concentrating entirely on the two quality brands, we have effected economies of such far reaching proportions as to make Cheswick and Bromford unequalled values at their prices.

Cheswick and Bromford Are the Finest Your Clothes Dollar Can Buy

Because the quality is inside as well as outside. Because every detail of their making from the choosing of the fabrics to the actual cutting and sewing, is specified and supervised by Julian Goldman craftsman tailors. Not thrown together, but sewn together. As finely made as if you'd gone to a custom tailor for them. Careful in detail, correct in fit, and even the materials are of a custom quality grade.

The only difference, in fact, is that Cheswick and Bromford were made ahead of your order-instead of afterwards. Instead of you waiting for them, they are here waiting for you.

Cheswick $27.50

Bromford $37.50

15 Points of Better Tailoring of Cheswick and Bromford Clothes

1. Fabrics are cold water shrunk ensuring perfect fit at all times.
2. Exclusive patterns—woolens loomed exclusively for us.
3. Tailored to our own chart of specifications—in our own shops.
4. Only pure linen canvas used for foundation of Cheswick and Bromford.
5. All linings felled by hand.
6. Belgian stay linen to support pockets and keep them from sagging.
7. Hand-shaped and hand-felled collar with canvas under collar to ensure snug fit.
8. Hand-padded lapels and hand-basted fronts to ensure fit of lapel and chest.
9. All seams silk-stitched to withstand strain of body motion.
10. Perfect individual fit ensured regardless of size or stature.
11. Armholes taped for support.
12. Buttons of extra good quality that will not curl when clothes are pressed.
13. Hand-tailoring forbetter fit—machine tailoring for extra reinforcement.
14. Finest twill sleeve lining.
15. Same fine tailoring prevails thruout, in both Cheswick and Bromford—the difference in price is the difference in cost of materials and trimmings.

"A Message for Men"

is the title of an interesting booklet we have just published. It gives some very informative and decidedly interesting facts about clothes—their making—and how to appraise quality. The copy is yours for the asking. Just write—or step in—and we will be pleased to give it to you.

Cheswick & Bromford Come in Sizes to Fit Every Man—

Men of every proportion and build—of every degree of height or stoutness—the broad shouldered man, the tall slim man, the short fat man.

And, what is more, whether you choose a Cheswick at $27.50 or a Bromford at $37.50, you get the same smart style, the same fine tailoring, because they are both made to the same exacting specifications.

The difference in price, is the difference in cost of the fabrics and trimming.

The Julian Goldman Plan of Convenient Payments

is at your service in the purchase of Cheswick & Bromford Clothes. Just another feature of Julian Goldman service. There is no extra charge for it—you enjoy the same low price as though you paid the full amount at once. Men who budget their expenditures find this a thrifty, sensible method of dressing well without impairing their bank savings.

Postmaster General Harry S. Ne Deserted News Job For Politic

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Harry S. New, Postmaster-General was once a newspaper man. When yet a young man, however, he thought better of it and turned politician. The life of a politician in Indiana is no less arduous than that of a newspaperman, but New rose to be a United States senator. When he was defeated for renomination in 1922, New, was appointed by President Harding as Postmaster General. He was retained in office by President Coolidge.

New likes public service and he particularly likes his present duties as chief postmaster of the country.

He has devoted his energy chiefly to building up the government air mail service. Under him it has grown to stupendous proportions, spanning the continent with day and night air mail lines.

The service has gotten beyond the adolescent stage and is now being taken over by private concerns.

Last year the gross revenue from the New York to San Francisco route was $861,865.05. New believes it will pay handsomely later as the private operators are permitted to carry passengers and express as well as mail. Air mail pilots travelled about 2,500,000 miles or a distance equal to 100 times round the world. There were practically no delays or serious accidents. One of the pilots, Shirley Short, was awarded the international prize for the best aeronautical achievement of the year, winning over Comdr. R. Byrd, who flew over the Nor Pole.

Talks Air Mail

It is seldom possible to talk New for five minutes without subject getting around to the mail service. He is immens proud of the Department's recor

Outside of the office New d votes hours on end to fishing a duck shooting. They are his on recreations. Twice a year, in t spring and fall, he goes to Turt Lake, Michigan, where, he say the fish always bite, and the duc are plentiful. For 41 years he h been a member of the Turtle La club which he helped to found.

"The Risen Christ" Theme Of Message By Rev. De P. Maynard

Concluding service Of The Crusade This Evening—Song Service To Precede Sermon

The sermon at the bishop's crusade service last night in Trinity church fully maintained and continued the high standard set in the beginning, and in addition there was a very practical note sounded, going to the heart of the need of every church in its effort to hold up Christ.

Individuals were kindly, but plainly told of their duties and responsibilities.

Beginning the theme "The Power of the Risen Christ Among Men Today," the Rev. Malcolm DeP. Maynard described feelingly his experiences recently in visiting the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. It is accounted one of the most holy shrines in Christendom usually thought of as the place of His burial, it is also the place of His mighty resurrection. "There our Saviour won the victory over the three things we dread or shrink from most—sin, death, hell."

Therefore Christian parents want to fix the affections of their children on Him and pastors the affections of their people on Him, the Conqueror. When we profess our belief in Christ's resurrection it must be real, shown forth in our personal lives and in our churches by worship, work and giving. The crusader made an earnest appeal for the giving of lives to Christ and described His service as the only source of real joy. We are not to be satisfied with "holding the line", as Christians we are to "advance the line". This means adequate equipment of the church in all respects to do its work.

Re-dedication cards were received last night; many will be offered to God tonight. If the card has been mislaid or lost, bring a pen or pencil and fill one out in the church.

The last crusade service tonight promises to be the most largely attended and enthusiastic of the series. It is at 8 o'clock, preceded by hymn singing at 7:45 o'clock.

The subject for the sermon is "Christ reigning as King", the glorious climax of His life, and the natural conclusion of the preaching of the bishop's crusade.

This great nation-wide effort in the Episcopal church will receive a special emphasis in Lawrence county through the visit of the bishop of Erie, the Right Rev. John Ward, D. D., next Sunday. He will preach at St. Andrew's, E. Long avenue, at 8 a. m.; St. Luke's, Ellwood City, at 11 a. m., and at Trinity church, corner North Mill and East Falls streets, at 7:30 p. m.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Detroit's New Arena Will Seat 12,000

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 25—Plans for the Detroit Hockey Club's Olympia Arena have been changed so that it will be the largest building in the world devoted to boxing and other athletic events, according to a petition filed with the Michigan Securities Commission.

The original plans, laid before the commission in August 1926, contemplated a building that would seat 12,000 persons at a hockey game and 15,000 at boxing exhibitions. To carry out the original plans was expected to cost $800,000. The new application asks authority to sell $750,000 of additional preferred stock. The changed plans contemplated a building to cost twice the estimate for the structure originally projected.

The new application does not state the exact seating capacity now contemplated, but on the basis of the costs contained in the original plans the present design should care for upwards of 25,000 persons.

The club has contract with Tex Rickard, promoter of most of the recent championship bouts, under which he agrees to hold from four to six major boxing events at Olympia Arena every year.

The new plans contemplate construction of the Arena on the site originally chosen, at the corner of Grand Rive and McGraw avenues.

Pearson Is Named Publicity Director

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 25.—Charles Pearson, Dormont, has been named as publicity director of the state department of highways. He formerly was a referee in the workmen's compensation bureau of the department of labor and industry.

Pearson fills the place vacated several months ago by M. H. James, the publicity director for eight years.

American Navy Now Greatest Movie Patron

Sailors See First Run Films In All Parts Of World On Land And Sea

Feature Comedies Are Most Popular, While News Reels Also Please

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Patrons of the first run movie houses in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and elsewhere have nothing on the American gob, either afloat or ashore when it comes to seeing feature films that are hot from Hollywood. The Navy, having become the largest motion picture distributor in the world is now able to start two sets of prints of the latest features on voyages to every American warship and land station simultaneously with their release to the larger theatres.

This service has now been extended so that movies have become part of the daily routine aboard ships at sea, no matter how far from port they are, abroad both Navy and Army transports, and at naval stations and other shore establishments. In order that the sailors may be kept well supplied with films, the Navy Motion Picture Service has acquired or collected 1,200 complete eight-reel programs in duplicate and 150 in triplicate, and in addition almost 4,800 reels of short stories, comedies and animated cartoons.

Films Travel Far

Each film travels for about three years before it is returned for storage. The bluejackets on ship duty are given first chance to see the new pictures, the films being transferred from vessel to vessel until every ship in the fleet has had its turn to view them after which the pictures begin their journey to the various naval stations. This procedure has been arranged presumably because the men on shore have opportunities to visit the regular theatres which the other sailors are denied.

Feature comedies are most popular with the gobs, according to a survey made by the Navy Department, and next in popularity come heavy features "with strong action factors." The gobs also take kindly to the animated cartoon and to the news reel, but because they prefer to do their own sightseeing they turn thumbs down on scenic films or travelogues. Screen snapshots are also considered "not so good."

Bands on the battleships play during the showing of the pictures, while impromptu orchestras supply the necessary music on the smaller vessels. Regular evening shows are held on deck as often as the weather permits, but whenever the seas are heavy the show is put on in one of the wardrooms or in the chief petty officers' quarters below, where, however, the available room necessarily limits the size of the audience.

The Navy maintains two exchanges, one in New York City, which serves the scouting fleet, the control force, special service squadron, European fleet, naval and marine stations in the West Indies, and naval stations, hospitals and prisons in the eastern part of the United States; and the second in San Diego, Calif., which supplies films to the battle fleet, naval stations on the west coast, at Pearl Harbor, Samoa and Guam, and to the Asiatic fleet.

School For Operators

Operators receive instructions in schools conducted by the Navy in connection with the New York motion picture exchange and the electrical trade school in San Diego. The men detailed as operators are sent to these schools for a six-week course of training, during which they are taught virtually everything there is to know about upkeep and repairing of films and projection machines. The Bureau of Engineering is now preparing a manual of instruction for the use of these students.

Two shops are also maintained for experimental and repair work on projection machines. Laboratory workers in the Brooklyn Navy Yard have been experimenting with various machines to find one to give long service and will stand up under heavy going at sea with a minimum of mechanical trouble. Although the machines aboard ship are now in the hands of the engineering personnel to insure them the most expert care, there always remains the possibility that unless they are almost perfect in construction they will break down beyond the ability of the engineers abroad to repair them and thus deprive the men of their movies for indefinite periods until new machines can be obtained.

The question of the metal used in the machines is exceedingly important and has made a special type necessary for use at sea. The iron and sheet metal used in commercial machines rusts too easily, so that the naval machines must be made of a non-corrosive alloy.

Argentine Plans Air Mail Route

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 25.—A project is now under way for establishing a daily postal air service between Buenos Aires and Mar del Plata Argentina's fashionable seaside resort, a distance of some 360 miles by rail.

The plan calls for four aeroplanes, which will probably be of the Crutiss-Oriole 160 h. p. type. Two of the planes will be for constant use in the service, and the other two will be held in reserve in case of accidents. It is calculated that each mail plane will easily reach its destination in time enough for the distributing of the correspondence before nightfall.

The well-known Aregentine aviator, Major Zanni, is the originator of this air mail route scheme. The service will only be in operation during the Mar del Plata's summer season ending toward the end of March.

New Artillery Barracks Ordered For Camp Lewis

(International News Service)

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., Feb. 25.—Plans are virtually complete for the erection of three barrack buildings here to cost $1,200,000. The buildings will house a regiment of field artillery and will be of modern, fireproof, masonry construction.

Bids for the work will be received in the near future by the constructing quartermaster here.

'SURE SHOT MARY,' 16 HITS MARK 500 TIMES IN THAT MANY 'TRIES'

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—They call her "sure shot Mary," now at Lake View High school because 16-year-old Mary Ward, seeking a Reserve Officer's Training Camp marksman's medal, shot 500 out of a possible 500 with an army rifle, to win not only the badge but four honor bars as well.

For the medal, she had to count with 80 out of 100 prone shots, but a check showed every try good. Instead of making 85 out of a possible 100 to win her first bar, she made a perfect score and repeated while trying for a 90 and two 95's, to win other coveted bars.

Britain To Fight U. S. Canned Fruit

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 25.—A new industry—canned fruit—is to be started in Britain by America. Its promoters insist that British and Dominion growers can furnish sufficient canned fruit for British needs.

"We have been canning fruits here for a long time," says H. V. Taylor, of the Ministry of Agriculture, "but in a crude way. But now we have made a start to build up an industry with factories well equipped with automatic machinery as good as that used by our competitors overseas.

"The best steel plates are made in this country; the best flavored fruits are produced and wages, generally speaking, are lower. We now have a National Food Canning Council developing and organizing on sound lines, a really successful industry."

W. G. Lobjoit, for many years Honorary Controller of Horticulture, says, "There is a tremendous opening in the canned fruit trade for British growers, and I am convinced that we shall be able to establish an export trade, perhaps, even, to American."

A belief existed at one time among medical men in the spontaneous combustion of the human body.

Business Boom Cuts Taxes In British Budget

Fear Of Increase Fades As Figures Show Safe Revenue In Sight

Chancellor Finds Way To Avoid Increase In Tax On Incomes

By F. A. WRAY

LONDON, Feb. 25—British Business is rejoicing because, after all, there is not likely to be any fresh taxation in the forthcoming Budget.

After the prolonged coal strike, and the expenses of military preparations for China, it seemed for a time that an increase in income tax of from one to two shillings in the pound sterling—the present tax is four shillings in the pound—was inevitable. Now it seems that Chancellor of Exchequer Winston Churchill will be able just to scrape through without putting additional burdens on the too-heavily- laden taxpayer.

The reason of this is that, after the strike, business everywhere rebounded in the most amazing fashion, with many characteristics of a real 'boom' period. The result was that revenue came leaping into the Treasury in such a spate that it is now believed that the deficit for the year will not be more than $60,000,000.

Urge Government Loan

In addition to this, all the big business interests of the country, headed by the Federation of British Industries—which always has the ear of the Treasury—have urged the Government with all the force in their power not to increase taxation at the present time. In its place they advocate a Government loan to meet any deficit spread over a period of ten, fifteen or twenty years. Their point is that all signs today point to an enormous industrial revival in Britian and that further taxation might strangle it at birth.

Their arguments have undoubtedly impressed both the Government and Churchill, and providing revenue continues to flow in at its present rate until March 31st, it is very probable that fresh taxation, of any vital nature, will come into operation.

Foreign Investments

Another point which has had considerable effect on the financial advisors of the Government is the admission of the Board of Trade that its calculations for the past three years for invisible items—financial, services, investments, shipping income, etc.—have been far under the real yield, and are likely to rise very much within the next few years. British investments abroad have increased enormously since 1920 and the higher rate of interest they are earning, the growth of insurance, banking and investment trust income, have enhanced national income tremendously, although these "invisible items" do not appear on the national balance sheet.

If matters turn out as optimists believe, the only new feature in the budget this year is likely to be a luxury tax on furs and expensive wines and the modification of the automobile and betting taxes.

Austrian Schools Are Increasing

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Feb. 25.—There are now about 13,000 students in the universities of Austria, according to recent calculations, which is slightly less than when the country was a monarchy.

The decrease is due entirely to the fact that there are no more military universities where the sons of the aristocracy received a good academic education while preparing for army commissions. There were more than 8,000 military students in former days, who were educated at the expense of the state.

The technical and vocational universities have increased their membership, however, and are being enlarged to care for new applicants. Most of the present day students come from the working and middle class and attend school only a part of each day, when they are not employed.

The cost of education in the academic school is almost entirely borne by the state.

More than 59,000 students were last year registered in Canadian universities and colleges.

Roxbury, Mass., Youth Also Has Appeared In Barrel Trick In Vaudeville

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 25.—Although not aclaimant to the title of 'Jack of all trades," John J. "Cigars" Connors of No. 224 Roxbury street, Roxbury, has held forty-six different jobs during his brief career and is anxiously awaiting new fields to conquer in the future.

While working at his various jobs he has traveled in about every State in the Union. Because of the number of jobs he has worked on, he believes it will be interesting to see how many things a man may work at in a few brief years.

Ohio Opens New Crossing Fight

"Death" Crossing Fight Opens In Ohio; 200 Are Killed Annually

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Launching a moment to eliminate the appalling toll of more than 200 lives annually which is claimed in Ohio by grade crossing accidents, state legislators plans the lead of New York state in eliminating every railway grade crossing in the Buckeye state.

A resolution which would authorize a vote upon a constitutional amendment providing for a $100,000,000 bond issue, to be spread over a period of 20 years, for the grade- crossing elimination, has been introduced in the state legislature, and its eventual passage is predicted around the capitol, where it has quickly enlisted the support of Governor Vic Donahey and a strong following in both the Republican and Democratic ranks.

Under the provision of the proposed plan, the state would issue bonds in sufficient amounts to advance the cash to railroads to pay their share of the removal projects upon which immediate action is desired, and receive the money back over a period of years. The cost of the elimination of grade crossings would be spread between the state, the railroads, the city or county in which each crossing is located. It is estimated by state engineers that the removal of grade crossings will cost an average of $50,000 each.

Nearly 600 persons, it is shown by highway statistics, have been killed in three years on Ohio highways at grade crossings. Due to the net work of rails which thread the state, and the frequency of train service, the highway crossings, particularly in the vicinity of the larger cities of Ohio, become virtual shambles on Sundays and holidays, when good weather brings motorists out by the tens of thousands.

Texas Panhandle's 1,300,000 Acres Of Wheat Enjoy "Perfect Prospect"

(International News Service)

MARILLO, Texas, Feb. 25.—The Texas Panhandle faces 1927's wheat harvest with 1,300,000 acres of seed in the ground, 200,000 more than last year's record crop; with "virtually perfect" prospects; and a future June market predicted at $1.10, five cents under 1926.

These figures were released by Walter A. Barlow, mill baron of one of the most productive wheat areas in the nation.

Although there was practically no precipitation in January, Barlow declares that the sub-soil is so well saturated with moisture that the Panhandle can go without snow or rain until March 15, if necessary, without material damage.

The acreage south of Amarillo in the south plains or Plainview, Tex., district totals 750,000 for the 1926-27 crop, approximately 30 per cent over last year's. In the north plains, that area lying north of Amarillo on the Rock Island railroad main line from New Mexico to Oklahoma, the acreage is normal, that is about the same as last season.

15,000,000 Acres Available.

It is estimated that there are 15,000,000 acres of potential wheat land in the Panhandle, comprising 36 counties. Amarillo's board of city development's agricultural campaign points to the settling of this vast fertile field by outside farmers. This land is unbroken ranches of thousands of acres much of which is like it was in the pioneer cattle-trail days, with even fences.

The average production for the Panhandle last year was more than 20 bushels to the acre as compared to 13.6 bushels per acre the nation's average for the last ten years, according to the U. S. department of agriculture.

This section's bumper record wheat crop last year in some instances was a veritable "Garden of Eden" from the grain farmer's standpoint with isolated instances of 70 bushels to the acre and many wheat fields producing 50 and 60 bushels of high-grade wheat to the acre in both the north and south plains district.

Strategic Location.

The Panhandle's strategic location at the very southern edge of the wheat belt, yet in a high altitude which gives cool weather and early ripening relieves the section from being at the mercy of over-production as this wheat is the first to hit the harvest markets.

While the nation as a whole has great wheat prospects this year and the Argentine and other foreign fields will have some slight influence, Barlow believes that the Panhandle will throw its millions of bushels on an opening market of not under $1.10.

With the almost universal use of combined harvesters and threshers here the crop is marketed before other sections have put their crops in the mills and elevators or wheat pit operators have an opportunity to push the price down.

Super Whale Is Germany's New Record Plane

Biggest Hydro-Plane In The World Is Boast Of New Craft's Sponsors

Will Be Put In Service On Regular Passenger Routes

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—Germany can boast of owning the biggest plane of the world. The new "Super whale," just completed by the Dornier works at Friendrichshafen, famous birth place of Zeppelins, has made its first successful flights across the Bodensee and will be employed in the regular air passenger service, preferably on longer routes.

The new super-whale is a hydroplane capable of lighting on and ascending from the water. The boat part of the plane measures about twenty-three meters. Back of the bow is a cabin with accommodations for thirteen passengers. Behind this are a toilet room, room for the pilots, baggage room and another cabin for eight passengers.

Carry 21 Passengers

In addition to the twenty-one passengers two pilots will be carried. The whale can carry fuel for a 1,200 mile non-stop flight. It has two Rolls-Royce motors with a capacity of 1,300 HP. There is room enough in the gondola to permit mechanics to work at the motors during the flight. The wings measure about 93 feet.

However, this super-whale will be only an infant as compared to the new colossus now under construction at the Junkers Works near Dessau. This new plane will be able to carry a hundred passengers on a trans-Atlantic flight. From wing tip to wing tip it will measure more than 262 feet. It will be equipped with four motors of about 1,000 HP. each and the total weight of the plane will be no less than 36 tons. The new giant machine can carry nearly 2,500 gallons of fuel. The body of the plane will be nearly 80 feet long and the wings could cover an area of about 6,000 square meters.

Cabins For Passengers

There will be fourteen cabins for two passengers apiece, twelve double cabins with beds and some larger cabins for passengers. Altogether there will be plenty of room for 100 persons, including a crew of twelve men. The plane will be equipped with all imaginable comfort, including a dining salon, lounge rooms with sofas, a kitchen, a smoking room and even a small card room.

The plane is being built for a "regular trans-Atlantic passenger air service between Europe and America" and will be completed about the middle of 1927.

Movie Director Tries Suicide In Coast Home

Lynn F. Reynolds, Director For Renee Adoree, Dying In Hospital

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Lynn F. Reynolds, Hollywood motion picture director, was dying in an emergency hospital here today from an alleged self-inflicted bullet wound through his brain.

The director's desperate act, according to his pretty wife, Kathleen O'Connor, film actress, was committed in a fit of despondency immediately after his return last night from the high Sierra Nevada Mountains.

He had been on location directing Renee Adoree.

Reynolds suddenly left his dinner table, went to the sun room of his home and shot himself with a .38 pistol.

New Concern To Occupy Storerooms

Reports Indicate Negotiations On For Rooms In St. Cloud Building

Negotiations are pending, and expected to be consumated in the next few days, under which the Murphy Five and Ten Cent Store corporation, will according to reports acquire a numbers of storerooms in the former St. Cloud Hotel building, now known as the Harlan and Graham properties, on Washington street.

According to the plans of the company as reported here, the first floor storerooms in the two properties, four in number are desired for the business of the concern in this city.

The corporation, it is said, will take over not only the present storerooms, but will also take over and use all the properties back to Sycamore Way, in spite of the fact that some of the storerooms do not extend clear back to that alley at the present time.

It is said that in keeping with the needs of the concern will be erected at the rear of those storerooms, which do not now reach to Sycamore Way.

The changes will be effective May 1, it is said.

Michigan Legislature Will Vote On Restoration Of Death Penalty

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 25—Shall Michigan, the first state in the union to abolish capital punishment, restore the death penalty?

The legislature will make up its mind on the question shortly when a vote is taken on the question of returning to the policy of killing the killer.

Two years ago, in its last session, the state house of representatives defeated capital punishment by the narrow margin of one vote. Three members who voted "No" then are prepared to vote "Yes" now, it is said.

Agitation for a return of the extreme penalty is particularly [illegible] Detroit where robbery and murder are increasing at a rate that seems almost incomprehensible. In the past ten years, Detroit has seen 1,105 murders, not including justifiable homicides, of which there were many. Banks, payrolls, gasoline stations, drug stores, grocery stores and pedestrians are being subjected to a reign of terror.

Police Are Killed

Police are boldly engaged in battle by the bandits, and in many cases killed. Members of the Detroit police department recently were placed on a 12 hour shift and ordered to "shoot to kill." Ignore drunks and other minor violators, and concentrate on stamping out major crimes, the police were told.

The question of restoring the death penalty is occupying the attention of men and women in every walk of life. Gov. Fred W. Green, is acting as chairman of a radio debate on the matter referred to law enforcement as the most serious question before the legislature.

The death penalty measure is encountering strong opposition from the foes of capital punishment, who are denouncing it as a return to savagery. Only the poor and helpless, who are financially unable to hire lawyers hang, the antis claim.

Gunmen Are Cowards?

Simplification of the penal code and a sincere and rigorous handling of criminal cases will stamp out crime, they say.

On the other hand, proponents of the death measure argue that the modern gunman being essentially a coward understands only an appeal to his hide.

Legislation to make punishment of offenders more swift and sure by eliminating technicalities along the line of New York's Baumes law, are also before the legislature.

Governor Green has not yet expressed an opinion on the matter of capital punishment.

Cleveland May Vote On Ending City Managers

Petitions Being Signed Asking For Election To Abolish Plan

Would Make Mayoralty An Elective Instead Of Appointive Office

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 25.—The city manager form of municipal administration may be abolished in Cleveland—the first major city in the country to adopt the custom.

Petitions have been circulated seeking a referendum election which would amend the city charter and make the office an elective, instead of an appointive office. The election, if called, will be held within three months. The petitions are said to contain more than half the necessary signatures now.

Despite the enviable record made by W. R. Hopkins, who has filled the position since its creation in 1924, at an annual salary of $25,000, a growing antipathy to the plan has been reported from many quarters.

Davis Heads Move.

This movement was climaxed at a recent mass meeting led by Harry L. Davis, former governor of Ohio, now in business here. As a result of this session amendments to the charter were drawn up and the petitions for the election broadcast among citizens.

"Why should a city council pick the city's administrative head any more than the legislature choose a governor; or congress select the president of the United States?" proponents of the movement are asking in their campaign discussions.

The chief argument advanced by this group is that the public is just as well qualified to say who shall direct its affairs as is a group of politicians who would sacrifice efficiency for party loyalty.

Would Pick Mayor.

Where a "machine" might gain control of the city's guiding reins, the municipal manager would be kept on the job just so long as he acquitted himself to the satisfaction of the party in power, they declare. And by the same token, an efficient official might be dismissed summarily for treading on the wrong political toes and the public would have no say in the matter.

The amendments would supplant the present city manager, who is appointed for an indefinite period, by a mayor whose term would extend for two years. Paradoxically, the name "city manager" would continue in use in order to preclude amending dozens of sections of the charter and causing an enormous printing expense.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

MERCER NEWS

Attorney T. A. Armstrong of Farrell deserves the title of "Pioneer Settler" of the Mercer County Bar by his arrangement of cases on which he is interested at the present common pleas term now in hearing.

Of the 8 cases in which Armstrong was interested he had affected a settlement of six before the opening of court and states today that he has every hope of being able to affect a settlement of the remaining two before they reach trial.

The percentage is unusual and establishes a record for cases settled by one law firm out of court. Mr. Armstrong said today that he is firmly convinced of the fact that his clients are better served by this medium than the results of a trial.

During the fiscal year the Women's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church of Mercer have raised the sum of $850 it is announced today by the treasurer Mrs. C. J. Law.

At the thank offering of Tuesday evening the sum of $150 was contributed toward the augmenting of this fund. At this time a playlet was presented by the ladies and light lunch served. The sum is that given by the ladies missionary society alone it is said and does not include the contribution of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society.

Bail forfeitures in the amount of $15,000 will be collected at once by County Solicitor J. W. Nelson, that official said today.

The sum is a part of the $25,000 in forfeitures that are on the books of Mercer County for collection, continued Mr. Nelson.

The sum stated for collection is all that can be certified at this time. The remainder while owing is tied up by legal machinery that must be gone through with before the sum will be legally collectable.

The bail sum extends back over a three year period. The fact that so large a sum is possible to collect is significant of the number of bail jumpers in the county courts. The major portion of it is of course bail on bootleggers who have never appeared for trial or who have appeared and then had no liking for the sentence certain to be imposed.

Proper legal steps toward the collection of the sum at issue have been taken by the attorney which will be tested out by due process of law in event of failure to make payment by the filing of the liens.

In many cases where defendants have jumped bail they have later been captured and brought back and forced to serve sentence. This change in their position creates a question of law as to the disposal of the bail sum. Such an action is then filed of recent date by Vujo Cica of Farrell who paid $1,000 cash bail for George Rodich of Farrell, arrested in 1924. Arrested and brought back and made to serve 6 months in Work House on a liquor charge Cica through his attorney Francis Flynn of Farrell now asks a rule of court as to why the sum less fine and costs should not be returned. The court made the rule returnable on the first Monday of March.

Following proper legal processes the Sharon Gas and Water Company has been dissolved by the court.

The company has been inactive for many years it is set forth and with all debts paid the dissolving of the corporation is allowed by law.

The largest shipment of wool ever sent out of Mercer County was completed today when five carloads of the wool of county association of sheep growers was shipped to Boston, weighing 86,000 pounds.

PRESENT DAY CIVIC PRIDE

Peddlers, mail order houses, foreign owned big-business grocery stores have no civic interest in this community. If it is good for some of the people to patraonize such outfits, then all of the people should patronize them. But, what would be the outcome if that came to pass? There would be little need for banks, local newspapers would lose their value, all businesses would be in the hands of such outfits, property values in cities and farms surrounding would, perforce, be depreciated, such towns would be dead, civic welfare would be crippled as these corporations turn a deaf ear to all such appeals, populations would decline and people generally would have their opportunities restricted. Just a little food for thought.

Dawes Proves His Job's Good For Getting Opinions Heard

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—When Charles G. Dawes was elected vice president there's no doubt he made up his mind to use the job as a means of booming himself for first place on the Republican ticket in 1928.

Any experienced politician could have told him it couldn't be done, but Dawes has accomplished the impossible.

He may not be nominated, certainly, but he's in the running, and nobody ever was able to make that claim so near the end of a vice presidential term before.

Presidential deaths have advanced several vice presidents to the White House, to be sure, but that was accident, and even with the advantage of the executive mansion as a taking off place, none of these individuals ever managed to get a nomination to succeed himself, until President Roosevelt's day.

Once a vice president, always a nobody, had been the invariable verdict prior to the epoch of the precedent-smashing Teddy.

The colonel was a rare personality. Though McKinley had lived out his second term, maybe Roosevelt would have been presidential timber at the end of it, but it's no cinch. Politicians all think McKinley's death was the only thing that gave him his chance.

It's quite generally agreed that Coolidge never would have been anything higher than vice president if Harding hadn't died. It's no reflection on the president, but just a conclusion drawn from history.

Dawes saw some good cards in the vice presidential hand that all his predecessors seem to have missed.

He saw that, while a vice president has next to no political influence, he's conspicuous enough to attract attention when he talks, and he's talked industriously, in that Helen Maria style of his, thus establishing a reputation for himself as a public character with lots of punch and virility.

He saw that, while a vice president can't vote in the senate except on ties, of which there aren't many, he can take sides and claim credit for it, and yet nobody can pull the record on him and blame him for so-and-so.

Ties? The only time Dawes has been called to vote on a tie, it will be remembered that he was home, slumbering.

Other vice presidents have mourned because they had no voice in legislation. Dawes has made an asset out of it.

In no instance has Dawes played both ends against the middle more skilfully than on the McNary-Haugen farm relief and Pepper-McFadden banking bills.

The mid-western farmers didn't think much of the Pepper-McFadden bill but they were willing to forgive anybody anything, provided he favored the McNary-Haugen proposition. The eastern financial interests disapproved heartily of the McNary-Haugen bill but were prepared to overlook its indorsement by anyone who regarded the Pepper-McFadden measure benevolently.

Dawes was equally pro-McNary-Haugen and Pepper-McFadden.

If he had to vote for or against the two bills or sign or veto them, it wouldn't have been so easy, but it was necessary for him to be merely sympathetic toward both of them. He couldn't have been more so.

Consequently you hear the vice president well spoken of in the most conflicting groups.

He isn't as Helen Maria-ish in his actual contacts as he sounds, to read about him. On the contrary, he's a mild mannered person, with an affable smile, and, now that they're used to him, a very popular presiding officer in the senate.

He also shows indications of being an extraordinary slick lone-hand politician.

Budapest Officials Bar Charleston

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Feb. 25. — The Charleston is too much for the Government of Budapest. A regulation has been issued prohibiting the Charleston in all coffee houses and dance halls and permitting it only in hotels which cater to foreigners.

The city trustees hope by this to preserve the dignified Hungarians dances which are rapidly becoming unpopular and unrecognizable under the influence of the Charleston, which young Budapest has taken to with a vim and abandon that should startle even the originators.

The famous Gypsy music of the coffee houses was actually disappearing because of the Charleston, whole programs in many places being given to the dance.

The older Hungarians who are proud of their distinctive national dances have been able to persuade the city to allow only Hungarian dances in public places with a few exceptions.

FARMERS WITNESS DOE DEER BATTLE

WARREN, Pa., Feb. 25— An encounter between two doe deer was witnessed in the vicinity of Lovell's Corners a day or so ago by a man named Anderson.

He states the deer were feeding in a field near his home, when suddenly the disagreement arose. Both deer rose on their hind legs, and struck at each other with their forelegs. The fight lasted only a short while, but one of the does soon had enough and fled to the woods.

BOGUS AMBASSADOR PLEADS GUILTY TO CHEATING LANDLADY

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Accused of having posed as George B. Harvey, former American ambassador to Britian, and of having swindled a woman out of $500, Robert McCormick, 53, today pleaded guilty of grand larceny in the second degree.

McCormick, who has been convicted four times and arrested 18, is six feet tall and of distinguished appearance. He obtained a room at the home of Mrs. Mary Johnson, saying he desired to escape heavy calls made on his time by his many friends and acquaintances.

There, it is said, he discussed a "big deal in Florida" with another man, leaving the door ajar. When Mrs. Johnson displayed interest he agreed to take her "in" for $500.

Prize Winning Essay By Margaret Shaffer Of Senior H. S. Class

Margaret Shaffer, a senior in the New Castle high school, has been awarded the first prize in the essay writing contest of the mid-year seniors, given yearly by the Daughters of 1812, Perry Chapter.

Miss Shaffer's essay was chosen from those handed in by 66 seniors, all of which were very fine.

The essay of Miss Shaffer follows:

The Star Spangled Banner

The Star Spangled Banner, our flag, merely a piece of cloth in three colors, red, white and blue. Yet the sight of this, waving in the breeze, has inspired many noble deeds. What is it about this which we call our flag—the Star Spangled Banner that has such an effect on people? It is not the color scheme, for in a picture, this glaring effect would cause an artist to shudder. It is not the material, for it has often been a flag of mere cotton cloth which has urged men on in a crisis. It can not be the design for who has not seen more pleasing sketch than these thirteen stripes with the forty-eight stars in the blue box in the corner. No, from the artistic standpoint there is little to be admired in the surface beauty of our flag. Yet there must be something which makes this banner beautiful and dear to the hearts of every true American citizen.

Could Betsey Ross have known that the flag which she made June 14, 1777, was to have such a future she would indeed have sensed the tribute which can be paid to no other citizen. Mrs. Ross was asked by a committee, one member of which was George Washington, to make a flag using the design which they had given her. Next day the flag was finished. The design submitted by the committee was used, with the exception that the stars had five points instead of six. Much credit is due Mrs. Ross, for she was the manufacturer of flags for the government for many years, the business being continued after her death by her family.

Our flag was accepted by congress and now we had something of which we had every reason to be proud. Our colors now had significance. They say that love is blind, and this is not an exception to the rule, for instead of seeing a glaring effect we see below the surface the ideals on which our nation is based. Our flag has a meaning, it stands for something, it stands for us. But besides this, each corner has its own special significance. The red stands for strength, the white for purity, the blue for unity. Outside of the famous trio of the Bible, faith, hope and charity, no other group of three words can mean so much to the human heart. These stand for the things which make life worth living.

So from time to time as new states were added to the union, the form of our flag was altered, until by action of congress it was definitely fixed in 1818. There should be thirteen stripes, alternately red and white. These stand for the thirteen original colonies. For each state there should be a star, white in a field of blue, which is found in the upper left hand portion of the flag. Thus our flag is made to represent us, not only by the colors but by the figures which make up our flag. Some figure in the flag represents us, we are a part of the flag.

Our flag had become a reality. It had carried us through many times of trial, it was a big step in making our union more intact. Yet it often takes a crisis to give us full realization of what we have and are. Although there have been many so called crises in our history, an event at Fort McHenry at Baltimore, Maryland, September 4, 1814, markes the turning point in our relation and feeling toward our flag.

After the burning of Washington, Dr. William Bean had been taken prisoner on a boat of the British as they were leaving. A friend, Francis Scott Key, obtained leave of the president to go for his liberation. After he had reached the boat he was forced to remain on board because the bombardment of the fort was begun. After patiently but anxiously waiting all night for the firing to cease, morning revealed the flag still waving over Fort McHenry. This so inspired Key that while awaiting the order for the final release of the Americans he wrote a rough draft of the stanzas of the poem and song on the back of a sheet of paper. He finished the poem in the boat while being rowed to shore.

Then after rewriting it he showed it to his uncle, Judge Nicholson, who sent it to a Baltimore newspaper which published it September 21, anonymously, under the title of the "Defense of Fort McHenry." The words were immediately fitted to a popular air and the "Star Spangled Banner" went ringing throughout the country.

Thus Francis Scott Key gave us an immortal lyric which will live through the ages. Every school boy knows the song, as well as the history of our flag, the two are inseparable, without the one the other means little. At sight of the flag or the sound of the song the instinct is in him to stand or remove his hat. After all these little things reveal our true regard for the flag.

When we begin to call the people by their first name or perhaps by some nickname we feel we are quite well acquainted with them. Much formality is removed and we are tied by a more lasting bond of friendship. None of our esteem is lost but rather, our love comes to the surface. So it was with our flag, we felt we were better acquainted with it. We called it by its nickname, so to speak. It was our 'star-spangled banner,' words descriptive in themselves of the way in which we revered it and yet of an ease of manner which only lifelong friendship and familiarity can bring. T'is as the star-spangled banner that we fondly think of it. O long may it wave o'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

Praise Western Air As Aid To Singers

(International News Service)

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Feb. 25—That the dry invigorating air of western America should produce singers equal to the world's best is the opinion of Albert Watson, M. C., L. R. A. M., A. R. C. M., famous tenor of the Westminster Abbey, Windsor Castle choir which visited here.

"There is no tonic for the voice to equal invigorating air," Watson declared, "and the air of the Canadian and American Northwest is ideal for singers."

After being in the Northwest awhile, members of the noted English choir noted that their voices had gone up in pitch one half tone. This was attributed to the tonic qualities of the atmosphere.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Some Advice

Wampum, Pa., Feb. 24.

New Castle, Pa.

Gentlemen—I enclose a piece that was in our Sunday School paper yesterday and would like to have it printed in your paper.

I have been a subscriber for eleven years and am now getting the paper from the carrier.

Respectfully
J. H. Kelly.

The enclosure is as follows:

MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Nobody likes the fellow who is always butting in, who tends to everybody's business and neglects his own. All of us know fellows whose favorite hobby seems to be taking part in some business enterprise or venture that does not concern them. Such a person is sure to be disliked, and the chances are some one will tell him the reason if he doesn't mend his ways.

The other day when we were downtown, a couple of high-school boys were having a heated discussion on a street corner. They were not talking loud or making a scene, but it was apparent from their manner that they were at outs over some matter of deep concern to both.

As the argument waged fast and furious a third boy came up and immediately tried to tell both boys where they were dead wrong. The arguers first eyed the newcomer. Then one of them said: "Aw, go mind your own business. This doesn't concern you anyway. You're nothing but buttinsky."

The third boy, looking rather sheepish, walked away, but he deserved just what was giveh him. His act was an intrusion. It was uncalled for and at sword's points as the two boys were, they were both quick enough to resent the intrusion.

The fellow who minds his own business will have little time to meddle in the affairs of other people. And he will be a happier, better-liked fellow because of it. Most people are competent to handle their own affairs without outside interference. As far as that is concerned, no one should offer advice or take sides unless asked to do so. The wise person is careful about giving advice and never does he venture suggestions unless they are solicited.

I know a boy who minds everybody's business but his own. If his friends are making a kite, he horns in to tell them how the job should be done, what changes he would make and so on. Needless to say, he isn't very popular. If his friends, or any group of boys, for that matter, are playing a game, he feels the urge to burst in on them like a cyclone and break it up.

As a matter of fact, the person who horns in on some one else when not asked to do so, is really casting a reflection on those upon whom he intrudes. It is as much to say, "Of course, you can make a stab at this thing, but you're not competent to do the job right, and I'll instruct you." Of course, he doesn't say that, but that is what is implied.

Every boy should try to mind his own business. He should put himself in the position of the other fellow. If this is done, there will be no temptation to butt in on some one else. Minding your own business is an ugly phrase, one that we do not like to use, but it is mighty important, nevertheless. It is one of the lessons which often have to be learned by experience, and perhaps a black eye.

Chamber Will Aid Reception For Druggists

President Scott Paisley Tells Directors Of Arrangements For Convention

At a very interesting meeting of the board of directors of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, held in the Elk's Club at noon, Thursday, February 24, Scott Paisley explained to the directors the plans being made to entertain the members of the Western Pennsylvania Druggists Association, who will attend the convention to be held in New Castle, sometime between May 15 and 25. The directors expressed themselves as being very anxious to cooperate in making this convention one of the most successful ones ever held and pledged the support of the organization to this end. Plans are now being worked on that will assure those in attendance excellent entertainment and every comfort and convenience while guests of the city.

H. K. Armstrong was present and explained to the board of directors the plans now being worked on by him and his associates in establishing a broadcasting station for New Castle. This was thoroughly discussed with Mr. Armstrong, and the endorsement of the board was given to this movement.

A report was received on the progress being made in recruiting Company B, 125th Mounted Engineers to the proper strength, that this new unit may be established in New Castle to succeed Company A, 104th Penna. Cavalry which has been mustered out and transferred to Clearfied. The support of the Chamber of Commerce was pledged to the new unit, and they will cooperate to the end that this may be made one of the best Military Organizations in the state.

It was reported to the Board that Dr. Charles Manfred Thompson, Dean of College of Commerce and Business Administration of the University of Illinois, who spoke at the Community Dinner, held in the Consistory Cathedral on the 28th of last October, was now a candidate for election to the Board of Directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Thompson's candidacy was heartily endorsed by the Directors.

Action in appointing a National Councillor and Delegate to the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce, to be held in Washington, May 2-3-4-5, was deferred until the next meeting.

The meeting was in charge of Vice President J. B. Foster, and was one of the best and most interesting ones ever held.

what has universally been considered a program of safe farming. The bill upholds as ideals of American farming the men who grow cotton, corn, rice, swine, tobacco and wheat and nothing else. These are to be given special favors at the expense of the farmer who toiled for years to build up a constructive farming enterprise to include a variety of crops and livestock.

"The bill singles out a few products, chiefly sectional, and proposes to raise the prices of these regardless of the fact that thousands of other farmers would be directly penalized."

Going into the operation of the measure, the president declared it would aid chiefly the millers, exporters, packers, spinners—everybody but the farmer.

Exporters, Packers Benefit.

"It seems also most incredible," he said, "that the producers of hogs, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and cotton should be offered a scheme of legislative relief in which the only persons who are guaranteed a profit are the exporters, packers, millers, cotton spinners and other processors.

"Clearly this legislation involves governmental fixing of prices. It gives the proposed federal board almost unlimited authority to fix prices on designated commodities. This is price fixing furthermore on some of the nation's basic foods and materials. Government price fixing once started has alike no justice and no end. It is an economic folly from which this country has every right to be spared.

"This legislation proposes, in effect, that Congress shall delegate to a federal farm board, nominated by farmers, the power to fix and collect a tax, called an equalization fee, on certain products produced by those farmers. This certainly contemplates a remarkable delegation of taxing power.

"This so-called equalization fee is not a tax for the purpose of revenue in the accepted sense. It is a tax for the special benefit of particular groups. As a direct tax on the vital necessaries of life it represents the most vicious form of taxation. Its real effect is an employment of the coercive powers of government to the end that certain special groups of farmers and processors may profit temporarily at the expense of other farmers and of the community at large.

"The chief objection to the bill is that it would not benefit the farmer. Whatever may be the temporary influence of arbitrary interference, or one can deny that in the long run prices will be governed by the law of supply and demand. To expect to increase prices and then to maintain them on a higher level by means of a plan which must of necessity increase production while decreasing consumption, is to fly in the face of an economic law as well established as any law of nature. . . .

"A board of 12 men are granted almost unlimited control of the agricultural industry and can fix prices . . . for producer and consumer alike.

"The administrative difficulties involved are sufficient to wreck the bill. . . . The principle underlying this bill, whether fallacious or not, is simple and easy to state, but no one has outlined in definite and detailed terms how the principle is to be carried out in practice. How can the board be expected to carry out after enactment of the law what cannot even be described prior to its passage?"

In closing, the President expressed his sympathy with legislative relief for the farmers.

"Agriculture," he said, "must be helped and strengthened.

"To saddle it with unjust, unworkable schemes of governmental control is to invite disaster worse than any that has yet befallen our farmers.

"It has been represented that this bill has been unanimously approved by our farmers. Several of our largest farm organizations have refused to support it.

"What the farmers want, and what the American people as a whole will approve, is legislation which will not substitute governmental bureaucracy for individual and cooperative initiative, but will facilitate the constructive efforts of the farmers themselves in their own self-governed organizations.

"It is a great regret to me that I am unable to come to the conclusion that the bill would help agriculture, be of benefit to the country, and be in accord with the constitution.

"Other plans have been proposed in congress for advancement in this recovery, which plans offer promise of sound assistance to the farmers without these unconstitutionalities invasions of executive authority, this contracting with packers and flour millers and other manufacturers, this over-production with its inflation and inevitable crash, without this indirect price fixing, buying and selling, this creation of huge bureaucracies. They are, on the contrary, devoted entirely to the principle of building up farmer-controlled marketing concerns to handle their problems, including occasional surplus production, and applicable to all agriculture and not to a minor fraction. I have frequently urged such legislation. I wish again to renew my recommendation for some such plan be adopted."

SAYS HER-HEADS AHEAD OF ALL

Pittsburgh Authority Makes Statement In Behalf Of This Type

This recent myth that gentlemen prefer blondes bids fair to be exploded with a bang. Either that or else gentlemen haven't the discerning taste they should have.

All of which is verified by Dr. H. D. Reynolds of the Pittsburgh Research Laboratories who says that "redheads are ahead of them all". Blondes? Fair enough, says the doctor. Brunettes? Dark looks from the doctor for he knows little about them.

But redheads? Ah yes. Redheads are the ne plus ultra, the acme or the top of the list if you want to take the doctor's word for it.

The gentleman with the medical handle allows as how we all come from electricity, which may be something of a shock to you, but if his hypothesis is correct, the redheads have more of that spark, that something that gets you, that "it" if you please.

Blondes come second in his choice because they are more prone to humor their emotions he says. Brunettes he knows little about, but then who does?

The flair for blondes seems to be waning, if Dr. Reynolds is to be believed. The ladies with thatches like a boquet of carrots seems to be coming in for their share of popularity, and those of you who are ladies and have red hair can take heart.

Bull Fighting In Spain Is Dying; Now Superseded By Modern Sports

By TOMAS ORTIZ de ZARATE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

MARDID, Feb. 25.—"Bull-fights have had their day in Spain, they will soon be a thing of the past," an aged and retired bull-fighter was heard complaining across a cafe table. "The art of bull fighting is dying at the hands of modern sports."

"All of us would have laughed if anybody had tried to tell us a few years ago that the football field and the boxing ring would attract bigger crowds than the arena but that's just what's happening," he continued, his voice shaking with emotion.

"Why, only a few years ago you couldn't pass a street without seeing some boys playing at bull fighting, trying to imitate the favorite torero of the day. But now that is all going out of style.

Kids Play Baseball

"On the main streets here in Madrid the police are kept busy chasing the kids out of the way of the infernal taxis and tramways (trolley-cars) and down the side streets you see the children playing baseball. Nowadays their big ambition is to become a good goalkeeper or a featherweight champion.

"On Sundays and holidays all of Madrid turns out and fills three stadiums to their capacity of thirty or forty thousand people, while they have a difficult time filling the thirteen thousands seats in the bull-ring. Even in Seville, the bull fighter's city, they're losing interest. If you visit the capital of Andalusia today you find that in the barber shops and shoe shining stands they have taken down the pictures of most famous toreros that always used to be there and put up the pictures of the champion football players. You never hear the customers and clerks of these establishments discussing the feats of the torero in the last bull fight, any more. You hear them talking over the score of the last football game.

Once National Hero

"Not so many years ago the best bull fighter was the national hero. He made a triumphal entry into every town he visited. People all turned their heads about to admire him as he passed by. And even if he wasn't known, they all recognized a torero by the braided queue that hung under his broad-brimmed hat, and by his short, embroidered jacket. His costume was typical from head to foot.

"And now the toreros seem to be ashamed to show who they are. They have cut off their braids and dress like everybody else, and when they want to have a good time they prefer the Parisian cabaret with its jazz band and its Charleston, to the tavern with its "Flamenco" Gypsy-style singing and dancing.

Davis Reports On Convention

Attorney Charles Davis today presented a comprehensive report to city council relative to the recent conference of city planning commissioners, at Harrisburg.

He described the conference as brimful of importance and told of the different spokesmen and their topics.

Attorney Davis told of the merits of New Castle, in addition to what the city planning commission is doing here.

Council was greatly pleased with Davis action and report and tendered him a vote of thanks for his comprehensive report of what transpired at the conference.

SENIOR HI-Y TO MEET

Members of the Senior Hi-Y will meet Monday evening, February 28, in the Y. M. C. A., for their weekly meeting, according to the announcement of John Leonard today.

G. A. Lyons, president of the New Castle Business College, will be the speaker of the evening.

E. And A. Division Team Is Winner At Cleveland, O.

E. & A division basketball team of the Pennsylvania Railroad composed mostly of New Castle boys won the championship of the Lake Grand division last night at Cleveland by defeating the team of the C. & P. division with a score of 31 to 19.

This victory will now give the local boys a trip to Buffalo on March 5, where they will play for the championship of the North Grand division and if victorious will go to Pittsburgh to contend for the championship of all the Central region. This game will be played on March 12.

The boys sprung quite a surprise at the Woodland Y. M. C. A. floor at Cleveland for everyone was picking the heavier team of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division to win. The local boys certainly showup them up, all of the team playing high class basketball.

The victory last night was over teams of three divisions, the team of the Akron division being eliminated some time ago.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

A GOOD TRICK, MAYBE!

The lean dog could not keep his tongue in his mouth. He was too excited. How his eyes did sparkle and how his tail did wag as he panted out his questions. Petares shook his head at him, smiling.

"You ask too many questions, hound, and I shall not answer. Lie still, like a good dog, and keep watch and I promise you a mouthful of wild duck to carry home if all goes well. For this is a good trick if you do it!"

When Petares, the Egyptian boy, spoke like this the lean dog found it best to do what his master told him. So he watched and waited.

And before long Petares had woven a clump of rushes that looked much like the rushes that grew upon the banks, and now he slipped his head through the opening that he had left at the bottom.

"Whew, this is a warm helmet!" chuckled he, and the dog to save his life could not resist another question.

"Master, why cover your head with the reeds? Surely it is a deed in which there is no sense. Is it to shield your head from the sun? But in doing so, you are shutting out the air."

"Both which things I know and neither is my reason!" Petares parted the rushes before his eyes and mouth. "There now, I can see and breathe the better. Now then for the test. Can I slip into the water without too great a splashing?"

"Into the water! But my master!"

Then the lean dog lost his bark with sheer surprise. For suiting his action to his words Petares answered his own question. Cautiously he crawled, crouching, through the reeds that grew off shore, and when he was yet among them softly he dropped into the water. A faint plop—the ducks themselves might have made it.

CAUTIOUSLY HE CRAWLED, CROUCHING, THROUGH THE REEDS THAT GREW OFF SHORE

All unheeding, the wild birds kept right on with their feeding, only one old fellow, through age made wise, noticed the ripples and wondered what had caused them. He lifted his head and looked about but seeing nothing on the land nor in the water but the familiar rushes he flapped his wings and dove beneath the surface.

Turkey Will Send Envoy To China

(International News Service)

PEKING, Feb. 25.—Turkey is expected to send an envoy to Peking shortly to negotiate a Sino Turkish treaty. This plan is the result of the urgings of Chinese Mohammedans abroad. Those in Moscow recently submitted a petition to that effect to the Chinese Charge there.

With just under one hundred million Mohammedans, China naturally gravitates toward relations with Turkey, although they were ranged on opposing sides during the World War.

China has also been looking to Turkey in the past years for her example in shaking off the shackles of extra territoriality. Soviet Russia has urged a similar plan for China and it is highly possible that she had a hand in getting Turkey and China together at this time.

DINNER STORIES

The following is said to come from Aberdeen. Jock met his friend Sandy in the street. "Sandy" he said "I wonder if you could oblige me wi' a cigarette?" 'But I thocht you said you't stoppit smokin'?" said Sandy, reluctantly. "Aye, weel," replied Jock, "I've reached the first stage, I stoppit buyin'."

DEMOTED.

A small boy was returning from school crying bitterly. "What ails you my little fellow?" asked an old gentleman.

"I-I've lo-ost the p-penny the t-t-teacher gave me forb-being the best boy in the class" sobbed the boy.

"Oh well never mind" replied the old fellow "here is another one that will take its place. But tell me how you lost it."

"'Cause I wasn't the best boy in the class" replied the boy.

HE WINS!

"My father can write about ten lines of poetry and get five dollars" said the first boy, with a superior air.

"That's nothing" said the second. "My father can draw a few lines put on some notes of music and get twenty-five."

"Well, you'll both have to go way back and sit down" said the third. "My dad's a preacher and he can say about a dozen words and it takes four men to carry the money down the aisles."

FANS MOURN DEATH OF CHARLIE BENNETT

Seriously Ill Since November

Started His Spectacular Career As Member Of "Nocks"

INVENTED FIRST BASEBALL PROTECTOR

CHARLES W. BENNETT

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 25.—Thousands of baseball fans mourned the death today of Charles W. Bennett, 72, veteran catcher of Detroit's only championship team. He had been seriously ill since undergoing a facial operation last November.

Bennett led the National league in fielding for 10 seasons, a record never surpassed. He also was known as "Home Run" Charlie.

Born in New Castle.

Bennett was born in New Castle, Pa., in 1854. After playing semi-pro ball for a while he signed with the Milwaukee club and remained with this outfit until 1879 when he joined the Worcester club of the National league and caught the famous "Doc" Richmond.

Two years later he was signed by Detroit. In 1888 Detroit gave up its big league franchise and Bennett was bought by the Boston club. He remained in the Hub city until 1894 when he was forced out of the game through the loss of both legs in a railroad accident.

Bennett is credited with inventing the first baseball protector, a shield of cork, sewn between bed ticking material by Mrs. Bennett. He at first wore this shield under his shirt where fans couldn't see it and amazed the spectators by letting a fast one hit him square in the chest.

Paolino Favored Over Knute Hansen In Tonight's Bout

BY SID MERCER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—No betting coups or ticket scandals are attached to the fistic offering tonight at the Garden and yet there is an undercurrent of opinion, that the encounter between Paolino Uzcudun, the Spanish heavyweight, and Knute Hansen, the melancholy Dane from Minnesota, will provide some thrills that were missing when Jack Delaney and Jimmy Maloney collided last week.

The light betting is explained by the fact that there is no line on Paolino's rating in American heavyweight society. The boys cannot classify him. They know he is rugged, can take a punching and is always charging his man. He is a short, squat individual whose back muscles, developed by wood chopping, give him tremendous hitting power in his short arms. The Basque is no boxer but when he gets in close he is said to be a wicked body punisher.

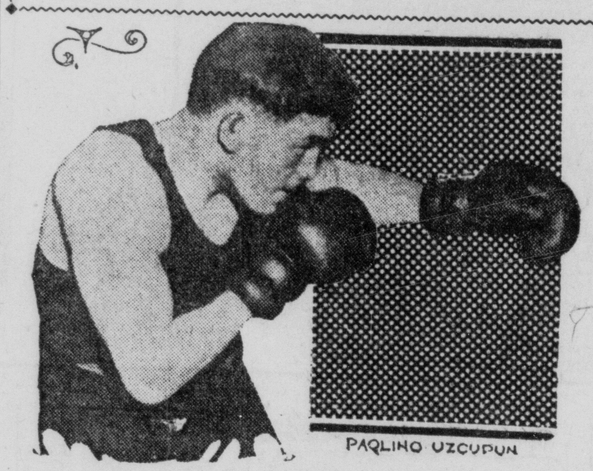
Mack's Team Is Reaching Form

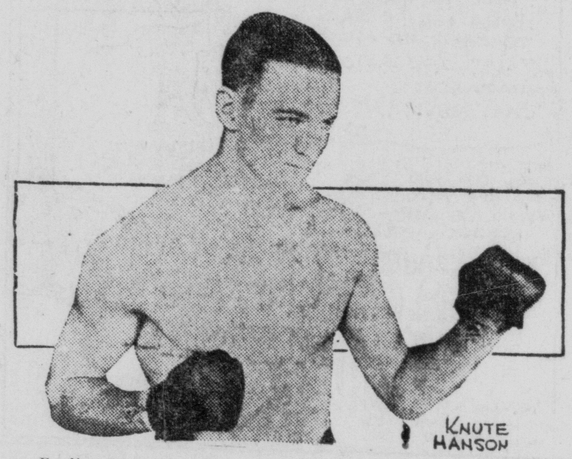
(International News Service)

FT. MYERS, Fla., Feb. 25.—The broiling hot sun of the past four days here has speeded up the conditioning of Connie Mack's pitchers and catchers. The hurlers with the exception of Howard Ehmke and Jack Quinn have lost the stiffness in their arms and are about ready to cut loose with fancy curves and fast ones.

Ehmke and Charlie Bates joined the home run class in batting practice yesterday. Carroll Yerkes got his legs knocked out from under him by a fast liner for the first injury of the season. He expects to get back to practice today.

Heavies Swap Blows Tonight





Paolina Uzcudum of Spain and Knute Hansen of Minnesota, ambitious though not leading aspirants for the crown that adorns the brow of Gene Tunney, swap punches tonight at Madison Square garden, New York. The winner will be considered worthy of meeting those who stand in his way in pursuit of the man who defeated Jack Dempsey.

Former Senator Dies At Camden

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 25.—David Baird, former United States senator from New Jersey, familiarly termed the "sage of New Jersey politics" died at his home here early today following a protracted illness. He was in his 88th year.

Born in County Derry, Ireland, in 1839, Baird came to the United States in 1856. Since 1873 he had been engaged in the lumber business and in addition was a member of the board of directors of several banks and commercial concerns. He had been active in New Jersey and national politics for many years.

He was appointed U. S. Senator in February, 1918 to succeed the late Senator William Hughes and in November 1918 was elected to the senate for the short term serving until March 4, 1919.

Tunney Plans For Intensive Training

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Billy Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, was in town today, discussing this and that. He believes that either Jack Sharkey or Jim Maloney will be Tunney's next opponent, probably Sharkey. Gibson is of the opinion that Sharkey will beat Maloney if the two Boston fighters should meet.

What about Dempsey?

"I don't believe Jack is seriously contemplating a return to the ring", Gibson said.

Gibson thinks Gene would have but little difficulty with any of the challengers.

Tunney will join Gibson here next week. His theatre tour ends in San Diego, and then, according to Gibson, Gene will go into training in April or May.

Lettermen Hold Initial Meeting In Senior High

Twenty-five Lettermen Present At Meeting Held On Thursday Night

By "BUGS"

Twenty-five lettermen of New Castle High gathered in the Senior High on Thursday night and formulated plans for the establishing of an N. C. Club.

Enthusiasm ran high at the meeting and it is believed that the organization will eventually become one of the strongest in the city. A membership committee was selected and they will meet next Wednesday night when a partial list of eligible members will be submitted.

It is the aim of the organization as outlined by Ralph H. Gardner to promote athletics and to further the cause of sportsmanship among the various High School teams. The club will also aid the officials in all matters pertaining to football, basketball, tennis, or track.

At a date to be selected later the club will meet and elect officers and directors. All winners of the school insignia for the past twenty or twenty-five years are eligible for membership.

The club plans to become active in the football training camp work next fall, and it is hoped that they can arrange an N. C. night at camp. The meeting last night was presided over by Robert Millison a member of the football team this year. Millison will act as chairman of the meetings until such time as a set of officers are elected.

Two Games Friday At Falcons Court

Falcon Reserves will play the Italian Invincibles and the Polish Falcons will play the Shamrocks in the Boys' league, Friday night at the Falcons' court.

A rather remarkable baseball record is that of Bob Prysock, who last year won the Michigan-Ontario League pennant for Bay City and who has been signed to pilot the Wheeling Stogies in the Middle Atlantic League the coming season. Prysock has played in major and minor leagues for 14 years and during this long period he has been absent from the line-up only once in some 2,000 games.

Overlands And Tin Mill In Crucial Game Saturday

The Rick-Overlands and Tin Mill will clash tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. in the first game of the double bill. The game will start at 8 o'clock. The championship of the second half of the City Industrial league hinges on the outcome of the battle. In the second game the Mahoning A. A. and East Side Merchants will meet.

The Rick-Overlands with five straight victories can cinch the championship of the second half of the league by a victory tomorrow night over the strong Tin Mill team. The Overlands defeated the Tin Mill in the first game of the second half of the season and are credited with the only victory of the season over the Fraser coached team.

Overlands Favored.

The Overlands due to their recent victory are the favorites to cop the battle Saturday night. The Tin Mill team has hit a winning stride in the past several games and they may upset the bucket.

Fans will recall the thrilling two extra time periods that was required to settle the Overland victory over the Tin Mill the score was 31 to 30. The Mill team winners of the first half of the loop playing can tie for the leadership by a victory Saturday night.

Arrangements have been completed for the handling of a record crowd tomorrow night.

New Castle To Play Ellwood City Tonight

New Castle High Floor Team To Play Final Game Of Season Tonight

GAME CALLED FOR LINCOLN FLOOR

By "BUGS"

New Castle high, champions in section IV of the W. P. I. A. L., will conclude their successful season at Ellwood City by meeting Ellwood City high on the Lincoln floor. The game is called for 8 o'clock.

The locals with eight victories and no defeats for the year are favored to defeat the Ellwoodians tonight. The Red and Black team trounced the Coach Lee team here earlier in the season by a large score and they are confident that they can turn the trick again tonight.

Coach Bridenbaugh will likely use his first team tonight. The locals are entered in the W. P. I. A. L. play-off tourney at Pittsburgh for next week and the game tonight will serve as a good workout. The locals are going at a fast clip and have taken ten straight games to date.

Ellwood City since the recent game here has improved considerably and they are liable to upset the dope, strange things have happened to well laid plans.

It was understood today that the Ellwood City officials have reserved 200 seats for the convenience of the New Castle fans who follow the Red and Black horde to the neighboring city.

Win, lose or draw tonight the locals have the sectional championship in the sack all ready for the journey to Pittsburgh and the matter will rest thusly.

Only in recent months has the radio public begun to realize the full importance of supplying adequate power to the loud speaker.

When the power tube was first placed on the market, radio buyers were under the impression that MORE POWER meant MORE VOLUME alone. The power tube is, and always has been, concerned with TONE QUALITY. SARMIENTO TO FIGHT GOLDSTEIN AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 25. — After two disastrous attempts to promote the Billy Wallace-Ray Mitchell battle in the city of Youngstown, and having all of the first class welters in the business refuse to meet Sergt. Sammy Baker, the new boxing firm of Zill and Wilson, will get under way at the Rayen-Wood Auditorium, on Feb. 28th.

Abe Atell Goldstein former bantamweight champion of the world, and Pete Sarimento the Bustin Filipino, will swap punches in the main bout of twelve rounds. What a fight that should make. The coolest, cleverest defensive fighter among the Mites of Fistiana, and a human cyclone rushing headlong to the attack.

That is just what the main bout will be, as Goldstein is a cool, clever defensive boxer, and a past master at the art of making them miss, Sarmineto, on the other hand keeps boring in and tossing punches from all directions, and is rated as one of the greatest action fighters in the bantam ranks today.

Fans in this section have been promised a chance to see the Brown Tornado in action on several occasions, but some unforeseen obstacle always cropped at the last minute to spoil an otherwise perfect day for the followers of Sluggology.

Goldstein is going better today, than when he sported the purple of his Kingdom, and is primed for the battle of his young life when he squares away for action with the Brown Cat from the forest of far off Mindanao.

In the semi-final Dick Evans, of Youngstown, and Jack O'Brien of San Francisco, will swap punches over the six round route. A Jewish boy and a Harp, and who ever saw that combination meet that there wasn't a fight.

There will be two other six rounders on the card, but the principals of the latter have not, as yet been named by Matchmaker Al Zill. He promises however, that they will be on a par with the balance of the card.

Regals Defeat Croton Scouts

The Regals defeated the Croton Scouts 36 to 8 in a Boys' league game played on the Y. M. C. A. floor on Tuesday night.

The Croton team could not withstand the terrific pace set by the Regals in the first two periods of the game. The first half favored the Regals 13 to 5.

Ginsberg, Solomon and S. Levine were the best for the Regals, while the work of Fiorelli and Lattavo featured for the losers.

The lineup and summary:

Croton Scouts		Regals
Abraham	F.	Solomon

Lattavo	C.	S. Levine
Mick	G.	Cohen

Bessemer Pirates Win Two Games

Former Union High Players Are Defeated; Also Acme Club Of Campbell, O.

BESSEMER, Pa., Feb. 25.—The Bessemer Pirates went into action again, following a week's layoff, and turned in two wins. The Pirate Reserves took over a team composed of former Union high men, by the score of 32-17, while the Pirates defeated the Acme club of Campbell, Ohio, 52-31, on the Bessemer high floor, Wednesday evening.

The Pirate Reserves had things their own way during the first half of their game with the Union alumni, since all the Union men did in a scoring way during the first half was to score two points on free throws. During this time, the Pirate Reserves built their end of the score up to 16. The Reserves kept up their pace during the last half, and scored another sixteen points in the final periods, while the Union alumni scored fifteen.

All of the Bessemer players did what was expected of them, while W. Rech and Funkhouser shouldered most of the work for the Union alumni.

Although the final score shows that the Pirates defeated the Acme club by 21 points, they did not have any easy time of it, by any means. Overconfidence was probably one of the causes that lead to the defeat of the Acme's, since this was their first defeat of the season. The Acme's started of in whirlwind fashion, but after they had their first three plays broken up and turned into field goals, by the Pirate players, their confidence in their own ability seemed to die down, and not until the last period, did they show as much speed as they did in the opening minutes of play. The Pirates never lost their lead during the entire game.

The first quarter had a lot of passing packed into it, but little scoring, and the score stood at 7-4, at its close. In the second period, the Riehle and Smith shoved the Pirates way out in front, by means of four baskets apiece. These baskets, coupled with one each by Beale, and Jacobson, made Bessemer's score read 27. Katula scored all of the Acme's points during this session on two goals from the field, and the half ended 27-8.

The Pirates slowed down a little in the third session, and were outscored 16-10, in this session. In the final period, the Acme's again started their whirlwind passwork, but by this time it was too late, for the Pirates speeded up also, and cut off their last hopes of turning in a win.

Although all of the Acme club players could be classed as individual stars, they could not cope with the Pirates, for the Pirates worked together, better than they have in any other game so far this season.

Speaker's Successor By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Can Jack McCallister help the Cleveland Indians to stage a comeback, just as Bob McAllister, the sprinting sensation of 1922, returned to athletic prominence last month? From appearances, Jack is not nearly so fast as Bob, but he is much wiser and less eccentric, and, from all I hear and read, should be a better manager than Tris Speaker was. For McCallister not only has been with the club for thirteen years, but is immensely popular with the members of the team as well as with the fans in Cleveland.

Of course, the new Indian boss is a catcher. It is quite stylish for a club to have a catcher-manager this year, and when E. S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland Club, appointed Jack to run his ball club, he showed that he "knew his onions." But Barnard knew, too, that McCallister was aggressive, that he knew how to deal with all types of players, and that he could judge his material keenly and coach his pitchers wisely.

As a player, Jack never rated with the greatest backstops of the game, but perhaps he might have done so if an injury incurred in a benefit game hadn't cut short his brilliant career. He broke his knee-cap sliding into second base while playing with Hartford in 1902, and was forced to stay out of baseball for two years. When he returned to the game, he found that his old speed was gone, but nevertheless continued to play with Hartford, Binghamton, Portsmouth, and Akron, joining Cleveland as a scout in 1913. Then turned to coaching and later was assistant manager of the Tribe.

Jack McCallister undoubtedly has a successful background. He knows the methods and players of the American League as well as any one in it, and, if his players come through, will surely compete on equal terms with Huggins, Mack Harris, Carrigan, and the rest of them.

Feg Murray Says—

Let's see now, what was the name of that colored heavyweight fighter who was supposed to be a contender for the heavyweight title a few months ago?

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Will Suzanne Lenglen, back in Europe to swell a fortune already made as a professional tennis star, prosper as greatly under the guidance of her new manager as she would have under C. C. Pyle?

Tennis followers in particular and sport fans in general are just enough interested in her and the bold promotion efforts of Pyle to ponder the matter as Baldwin Baldwin, Los Angeles millionaire and grandson of the famous "Lucky" Baldwin, guides her future activities on the court. Baldwin succeeded Pyle as Mlle. Lenglen's manager at the close of her American tour under Pyle's direction and sailed for Europe as her manager.

Pyle apparently is very frank about the break between himself and the French maid. He says that following the first meeting between Mlle. Lenglen and Baldwin it was apparent that the tennis queen was receiving "advice contrary to what I regarded as for our mutual best interests." Pyle avers that he and his star attraction parted company with the friendliest of personal feeling, however.

But it was known generally before they broke that Pyle had mapped out an extensive European tour for Mlle. Lenglen. This exhibition jaunt was to include the orient. Those who watched Pyle realize for himself, Mlle Lenglen and the other members of the party on the American tour believed he stood to "clean up" a similar amount on the invasion across the Atlantic.

Then out of a clear sky came the news of the break.

Pyle is said to have turned over to Mlle. Lenglen approximately $100,000 as her shade of the profits for the American swing. Miss Browne, her opponent through the months of play, received over $30,000. Vincent Richards received about the same, counting a "cut" in the profits. Pyle himself is said to have cleared over $50,000.

Pyle is a "big money" promoter. He is a hard, cold business man. It is said of him that he sees the money in the bag before he steps so that he never "plunges.". He has proved this.

He led Mlle. Lenglen into an entirely new venture—a new sport field—and guided her to a fortune undreamed of on her part until he made a trip to Europe to convince her of the possibilities of the tour.

Now Mlle. Lenglen enters the second phase of her world-wide tour in search of riches with a new and untried pilot. Baldwin, a shrewd business man, has not the record behind him which Pyle made as a professional tennis promoter.

Baldwin is married and a father. Which would seem to eliminate the personal equation in the matter. Just what caused Mlle. Lenglen to turn down the second tour under Pyle's guidance is a mystery and enough of a mystery to cause American tennis followers to watch closely Mlle. Lenglen's future in the pro field.

Among the things you can learn by mail is that it doesn't pay to deal with people who have no rating.

Horse racing has been a favorite pastime in America since colonial days, and there are still in existence a score or more of famous stake races which were inaugurated around the Civil War period. Among them are the Travers Stake at Saratoga, which has been held since 1864; the Saratoga Cup Races, held since 1865; the Belmont Stake, held since 1867, and a number of others, equally famous, which date from the beginning of the seventies.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, New York Yankees owner, today stated he has not yet received Babe Ruth's letter, sent from California a few days ago. Ruth says he will await Saturday before telling the public what he said in his note anent a boost in salary.

IN EACH OF THE CAPTURED PLACES MORGAN EXACTED HEAVY CONTRIBUTIONS OF MONEY, HORSES AND SUPPLIES FROM THE CITIZENS.

AT COVINGTON AND OTHER KENTUCKY TOWNS THE LOYAL INHABITANTS SPRANG TO ARMS TO REPEL THE INVADER AND A LARGE FEDERAL FORCE WAS RUSHED TO THE SCENE, BUT MORGAN HAD MADE GOOD HIS ESCAPE THROUGH CUMBERLAND GAP AND RETURNED TO HIS TENNESSEE STRONGHOLD LADEN WITH CAPTURED SPOILS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Under cover of the strength and activity of the public utility and motor stocks, a considerable volume of profit taking was indulged in in the industrial and railroad stocks in early trading today. Houston Oil, all America cables and a few other speculative favorites continued the vigorous forward move which was in progress at the end of Thursday's session.

The Reserve Board's weekly report showed a gain of about 2 per cent in the reserves of the whole system, while the reserve ration of the New York Bank made the surprising advance of 7.4 points to 88 per cent of total resources.

Call money renewals were posted at 4 per cent for week-end loans.

Offerings of the railroad shares and the leading industrials were quite heavy in the first hour, and the market as a whole was powerless to continue its advance.

The oils also withstood selling pressure without any serious contraction of prices. Skelly was well bought around the highest price of the year. Coppers were quiet, sugars and equipments dull. U. S. Treasury and Liberty bonds were inactive but firm and commodity markets were slightly irregular.

Akron Has Problem In Nude Paintings

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Feb. 25.—Two nude paintings, "Desdemona" and "Phyllis", which were recently taken from the municipal art gallery here and stowed in the garret of city hall, have become the center of an interesting discussion.

Mayor Rybolt declares that there was no objection to the pictures that they were removed simply because the gallery was too small to hold all the works of art.

Then Ed Rose, city councilman, interposed a word, suggesting that the paintings be hung in the council chamber, it being somewhat devoid of decoration.

"The women are bare; so are the walls," Rose remarked laconically.

However, it now seems likely that the pictures will become a part of the proposed new Akron university gallery. The university wants them and the city, it is understood, is more than willing to relinquish its claim to the classical ladies.

HOT SPRINGS, Feb. 25.—Manager Jack McCallister of the Indians is well pleased with the early showing of his hurling staff.

Veterans and rookies were out for a 45-minute practice yesterday and all showed plenty of "stuff".

The team as a whole will go to Lakeland next week in much better condition than any previous Cleveland team, according to McCallister.

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 25—John Hawkins, former football star at the University of Southern California, is the latest member of the Giants' home run club. Hawkins, a first baseman, parked the ball in the left field woods in his first appearance in batting practice.

Included in the party will be Manager Moriarty, Trainer Jimmy Duggan, Edwin Wells, pitcher; Bob Fothergill, outfielder; Catcher Clyde Manion, Coach Liefield and Marty McManus Training will start Monday.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 25.—Three holdouts are causing the Nationals some worry. "Muddy" Ruel, the Senators' veteran catcher, has yet to sign, and so have Nick Cullop and Bernie Nies. Ruel's differences are said to be deep-seated. Clark Griffith cut his salary this year, as he did most of the other Senators, and Muddy can't see it.

"Immigrant" Sheep Also Prospering In America

Dr. C. C. Young holding a Karakul lamb

Exclusive Central press Dispatch to New Castle News

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 25.—One of the principal varieties of wool sheep raised in the United States today was introduced by an 18-yera-old illiterate Russian immigrant in violation of United States law.

Dr. C. C. Young of El Paso is that immigrant today in the Americanized form, and Karakul sheep, extensively raised throughout the central and far west, and noted for their rich closely-kinked wool, are the products of his enterprise. They are probably the only variety of Asiatic sheep raised extensively in the United States.

Helped By Roosevelt

"I am a self-made man with the help of Theodore Roosevelt," says Dr. Young, who is president of the National Association of Karakul Breeders, of himself.

This is the manner in which it came about: In 1898 Roosevelt, then a candidate for vice-president, while speaking before some Russian farmers in the Dakotas, needed an interpreter. It happened that he met Dr. Young in New York, liked him and hired him. The young immigrant told the future president how he hoped to introduce a variety of sheep, which was the pride of the famous Kurd herders of the Caucasus Mountains of Asia Minor.

Ten years later, in May, 1908, Young arrived in New York with four Karakul ewes and a blooded ram. The secretary of agriculture ordered the animals slaughtered as possible carriers of disease. Young appealed to the president and Roosevelt ordered the animals admitted.

And the sheep have prospered until today the department of agriculture says the Karakuls are among the most rapidly increasing varieties of sheep in the United States.

Shoots Husband At Pittsburgh

Woman Confesses Crime To Authorities—Quarrel Precedes Shooting

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—Held for the coroner after she confessed, according to county detectives, that she shot her husband to death during a quarrel in their suburban confectionery store, Mrs. Eleanor O'Hara Ruggiero, 31, today sobbed out a story of 12 years of embattled married life with Anthony Ruggiero, 51. In a written confession, given to County Detective Harry B. Cochran, the woman said she fired a charge of buckshot at her husband when he threatened to beat her for hiding some liquor.

Arrested by detectives shortly after the shooting, the woman said she quarreled with Ruggiero when he upbraided her for not revealing to him the hiding place of a quantity of liquor he believed to be on the premises. They scuffled in the confectionery store, the confession read, and when he threatened to beat her, she fled to their quarters in the rear of the store, seized a shotgun and fired a charge at her husband's body. Death was almost instantaneous.

Lodged in jail on an open charge, the woman asked to be allowed to confer with relatives, but as she talked over the telephone with a sister, she became hysterical, asking over and over that the sister take care of a pet dog for her, until she was able fo "get out of this mess".

Dickey To Appear In School Play

All Other Parts Being Taken By Experienced School Players

Because "The Show-Off" is, in several respects the most difficult play yet selected for production by the high school players, Miss Hartsuff's final cast as announced today is made up of experienced students of the drama, with but one exception.

This exception is Tom Dickey, a new member of the dramatic class. Tom is still an unknown quantity to the public, but his friends are confident that he will add to the prestige won by his fellow workers in their successful productions of the past.

The house was sold out for "A Lucky Break", given in December, and many who deferred getting seats were disappointed.

"The Show-Off" promises to be the best play yet produced in New Castle by any amateur organization and those who enjoy a first-class comedy should secure seats at once.

The cast for the performances to be given March 3 and 4 is as follows:

Clara—Barbara Bratschie.
Mrs. Fisher—Dorothy Jean Wallace and Virginia Reeher.
Amy—Harriet Martin.
Frank Hyland—Charles Knobloch.
Mr. Fisher—George Ruggy.
Joe—Norman Cotton.
Aubrey Piper—Allan Haid.
Mr. Gill—Robert Turner.
Mr. Rogers—Tom Dickey.

LAWRENCE COUNTY COMMERCIAL CONTEST.

The new Commerce club has been organized and is at present in the Lawrence county elimination contest, which is to be held at the Senior High school April 30. This contest is open to all pupils taking shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping and commercial mathematics.

The Commerce club sold candy at the basketball games in order to raise money to cover the expense of sending the winners of the elimination contest to Indiana, Pa., to compete with other county winners in the state contest. Only those pupils who have done excellent work in the above named subjects will be recommended by the teachers to enter the county contest. The students of the commercial course have been asked to help the Commerce club and they have shown their interest and co-operation by contributing either money or candy.

The contest is held every year and New Castle has always taken part in it. Each year we have had some one from this city come back with a victory. Last year the first prize for rapid calculation was won by a local student. The second prize was won by one of our students in bookkeeping, also it is hoped that New Castle's pupils will come back with several of the gold medals this year.

CONSTIPATION RELIEVED IN 3 MINUTES

NO MEDICINES TO TAKE!

You may be a slave to physics, pills, salts, calomel, or other laxative drugs. Perhaps only a painful enema gives you relief.

Yet 3 minutes after the use of this simple discovery called P & S Evacuant for the Bowels, the poison wastes are out of your system without pain, without griping, without taking a drop of medicine, without muss or fuss, without the injury to your system that physics do.

There never was such a true relief for constipation as P & S. Thousands upon thousands who suffered from constipation, bad breath, headaches, poor complexion, poor appetite and sleep are turning to P & S with miraculous success. VESEY STREET WOMAN DIZZY, COLLAPSED IN STREET

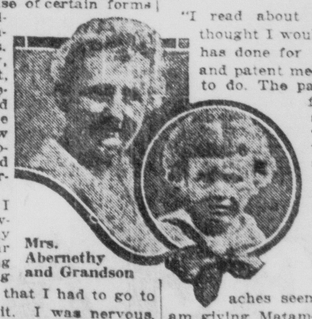
Attacked by one of her spells of dizziness, which she attributes to a fifteen-year-old case of certain forms of chronic bladder and kidney inflammation, Mrs. Cora Abernethy, 97½ Vesey Street, Newark, N. J., frequently collapsed in the street, she states. But now she is a well woman. How? Read her story yourself.



Mrs. Abernethy and Grandson

"For 15 years I have suffered awful pains in my back. Every year it was getting worse. Washing hurt my back so that I had to go to bed after doing it. I was nervous, my head ached, I was dizzy and had spells of falling; without any warning I would find myself lying on the sidewalk or at the foot of the stairs or on the floor. I could not sleep from itching of skin and awful pain in my bladder. The slightest exertion made me all out of breath. I was just as tired in the morning as I was at night. I had terrible rheumatic pains in my back and fingers. I would like to tell every person having such weakness not to neglect it.

"I read about Matamel and I thought I would try it. Matamel has done for me what doctors and patent medicines have failed to do. The pain is now gone from my bladder; I sleep all night without being disturbed; gone are the headaches and dizziness and falling spells, itching, sleepless nights, I feel years younger, no pains or aches, my stomach is O. K. now and the rheumatic aches seem to have gone. I am giving Matamel to my husband, who has been troubled with his kidneys for years".

If you have headaches, pains in back, tired feeling mornings, lack of energy, dancing spots before the eyes, strange noises in ears or head, dizzy spells, poor appetite, coated tongue, dry itchy skin, pins and needle cramps, loss of weight, restless sleep, don't wait until there is no chance left to help your kidneys; at once get a package of MATAMEL, which has over 200,000 users, from ECKERD'S OF NEW CASTLE, INC., 30 E.
